Beloved Child of the Exuberant Heart,

All of your life I have been with you. I have watched you, provided you with my generous love, positivity and Support. When you felt small, I helped you to remember your inner greatness.

When you said “it is impossible” I helped you consider a bigger perspective. When you have felt that brightening of your awareness, the raising of a higher perspective making fireworks go off in your mind—that was me. When you felt so deeply inspired you couldn’t help but jump headlong into your hearts deepest dreams and visions, I cleared the paths for you, creating miracles all along the way so you could expand as is it is your soul’s destiny.

Sometimes you have not appreciated me very much. Like those times when you were stuck, or going down a path not suited to your soul, and you wanted to just keep going...and I held a mirror up to you so you could see and feel, so big and so magnified that you were off your trail that you could no longer continue down that safe yet treacherous path.

That was me, too. Call on me when your vision is small and needs to be renewed and enlarged to the size of your vast and precious soul calling. Call on my when your optimism has waned and ask me to infuse you with my love and higher perspective. Call on me when you are ready to amplify and transmute any and all old stuck patterns you are ready to let go.

Love, Jupiter

Beloved Child of Earth and Sky,

Words cannot express the pride I feel in you. How you have grown!!! How strong, and capable you have become! I have been with you and loved you from the moment you took your first Breath. I was your mothers arms, holding and supporting you. When you took your first steps I was the solid Earth beneath your feet.

I was there urging you forward when you did not believe you could set that goal and accomplish your dream. I helped you see that you were capable, and strong, and you had it in you to do great things. I was at your side when you practiced and practiced your craft, helping you stay steady and committed so you could come into greatness. And when you believed your value and worth were connected to your mastery I whispered in your ear: “not so, My Child - your mastery is for your joy - not completion - you were already perfect.”

And I remain with you always, helping you to become the greatest master of your life, helping you step into your fullest destiny. Though you have learned through me that limitation is the great Teacher, when we work together there is nothing we cannot accomplish.

Love Letter from Neptune

Beloved Dream Child of My Galactic Heart

How you have grown, precious one, how beautiful and expansive your Divine Heart! Through dreams and visions and mystical knowing I have come to you, teaching you about your Divine Nature and connection to All That Is.

When you limited yourself, believing you were separate and alone, I created the perfect conditions so that you would let go of your certainty, helping you enlarge your spirit through compassion and trust. When you felt you had to earn and hold tightly to your value and worth, I helped you release grip and become soft and authentic again .

When your heart was broken and you wanted to put on your armor and do battle with the world, I held your hand and I held your heart and helped you remember that Love is your greatest strength. And in the end, would you have it any other way? Would you choose certainty over magic, protection over connection, or a life led by ego over a life surrendered to Spirit?

We Will Bring Love to this World Again, You and I.

Love Letter from Pluto

Beloved Child of Earth and Sky

I have been with you during your darkest hours. It was me you cursed when you were in pain, not understanding the beautiful initiation I was preparing for you. I was the one who stripped you of all your falsity, all the layers of protection that kept you numb and protected from life.

It is because of me that you can now feel so deeply, and experience life so fully. Because of me that you re-ignited your passion, and remembered the authentic core of who you really are. So many times you ran from me, and so many times I pursued you until finally I forced you to face me, and when you did, you saw yourself. When you faced the horror that is Me, I could finally greet you as the Lover that I am.

Let Us Deepen Our Dance Together Until All We Know is Ecstasy and Deepest Aliveness!!!

Dearest Child of the Gorgeously Broken Human Heart,

I see you. I know your heart. I know you have so often believed yourself to be the Broken One. And I have seen how the wound you have carried inside, watered with your tears and tended with your full presence has deepened You. I see how it has made your soul beautiful, and compassionate.

In you I see the gift, the priceless medicine of the Healer, You who transmute pain and suffering into beauty, connection, and kindness.

I honor you, I celebrate you, and your gorgeous, broken human heart. Because of your willingness to heal, you bring wholeness to the world again. You mend the split between feminine and masculine, between Earth and Sky.

Our dance together has been magnificent. May you see and know the holy nature of your scars and when you see them, see me, and know your own power.

Love, Chiron
