Thoughts On The Venus Return Cycles And Metamorphic Underworld

Venus Returns

I am stunned by the evidence of the truth of their impact. Other than the return at age 8, every single return emphasizes a very significant energetic shift or maturation point leading in the next growth phase. The returns up to age 40 were deeply significant but not as deep or as life-changing as later Returns.

I seem to have matured into experiences which I now recognize as more identified with the Metamorphic Underworld at age 40. These shifts more dramatically demanded a significant “letting go”, of an easier way of being, and in many cases involved what was experienced as a deeply distressing shamanic death, in order to move on.

The most intensive of these was when I was literally challenged with issues of mortality through my husband's accident, and my, and my son's, cancer. I guess I was encountering Kali. However the positive outcome was the opening of my new shamanic and spiritual experiences as I was led to work with the Himalayan Crystal Skulls, Luzl and Ezorok, and the Jade Disc.

I have experienced a sense of out-of-body experiences that felt like death many times. On one occasion during the 24 years Venus return, when I had lost a great deal of blood with internal bleeding, I experienced being out of my body looking down into the treatment room where I was receiving a blood transfusion. I obviously decided I was not shedding my final skin on that occasion!

I have also felt very close to death alone on the Mountain of Fear and feeling I was freezing to death in a shamanic initiation challenge. Looking back there have been many other extraordinary experiences of a fearful nature like this. I must say that I have never thought I could “manage” the happenings which I now see as Venus returns. The deepest death challenges required total surrender and I felt helpless to change anything

My Scorpio Overtone

I also now see as a powerful factor at every Venus return. The timings are fascinating as I have plumbed the depths and scaled the heights. The Scorpio overtone impact has been both positive and sometimes scary. When doorways opened I had no problem in following with delight when exciting and challenging stimuli were presented e.g. in the way opportunities to learn the Teachings of the Twisted Hairs arose. In fact I have pushed the boundaries in pleasurable ways in everything I have undertaken, whether in my academic studies and theses which confronted the inexplicable, or living in a “dangerous African country” or launching into public relations and advertising without training, and into emotional tangles, but especially in diving deeply into the Native American teachings!

My Journeys with the Crystal Skulls and Jade Disc have brought extraordinary experiences of wonder, amazement and delight. I have had hundreds of opportunities too numerous to mention which merely required a willing heart, although to others my behaviour appeared foolhardy and dangerous or impossible. However some of the Scorpio depth charges have brought with them the deepest darkest encounters with Shamanic and also physical death, like the M.E. and cancer above.

I have Venus, Mars, Mercury and Chiron in Cancer, thus together with the Scorpio overtone it is not surprising that I experience most emotions extraordinarily intensely, both when they are my own and when I am working shamanically with the Skulls to shift negative energy in Sacred Sites. Intense sadness and distress, especially around personal loss and separation and threat affecting me or my family, has often been expressed by my body as serious, even life threatening illness, e.g. Myalgic Encephalomyelitis (“a living death”:Venus transit aged 48), and cancer (Venus transit aged 56), spinal problems, even hair loss(!)

When working with the Skulls to release negative energy in sacred spaces, or healing damage and destruction to Mother Earth or any of her children, the distress usually comes through me as long-lasting deep sobbing and shaking.

I have learned through all these challenges how best to express the energy differently through the Skulls and in ceremony, and to safeguard my physical health so I can use it as efficiently as possible. Nevertheless, the unexplored edges always beckon! Moreover they have given me the experience to do the work I do in my psychology practice in the Middle World with psychosomatic disease, as well as helping heal Gaia.

But by far the greatest blessings bestowed by the intensity and boundary- challenging of the Scorpio Meta-goddess have without doubt been the opening of gates into other dimensions, through trance and dreamwork, especially when working with the vibrational energy of the Skulls in shamanic experiences, and the connections with the Beings of Orion in channelings and guidance through automatic writing and Sacred Light photographs.

I also recognise the fact that I have been required to move from my Moon position in Capricorn towards a very different way of being in my ascendant Aquarius, so I am immensely grateful to the Scorpio meta -Goddess for giving many opportunities, even now I am 76years old, to continue learning through exploring the edges!
