The Moon and Venus in the Same Sign

No Additional Synthesis Is Required

The challenge is to Let Go of How that Archetype Use to Be and Embrace the Evolving Expression at this time.

If Moon and Venus are in an archetype unrecognized by Patriarchy it may be about healing the wounds of that archetype.

If Moon and Venus are in Capricorn, Cancer, Libra, or Pisces, it is likely the journey is about having to let go of the addictions and expectations of the Moon to embrace new healthy ways of expressing these archetypes.

The Rising Sign often provides the key to what Venus and the Moon are here to support as the NEW Personal Identity.

The Sun As Fuel or Energetic Style

- The Sun is in a Sign for 30 Days locating you in the seasonal cycle, meaning the Sun Sign is predictable via the Gregorian Calendar
- Sun Sign Astrology became popular because its easy to know your Sun Sign
- The Moon on the other hand changes signs every 2.5 days
- The Sun represents the type of Energy available when you were born to help you get to your current life intent
- The Sun Shines on Everything so Infuses and Influences every area of life
- Including adding insight into the style of energy influencing Venus as the emerging Feminine Identity (women) or connection to the intended Inner Feminine (men)

The Power of Sun Sign Projection

If you identify with our Sun Sign more than your Venus Sign (for Men it would be their Mars), it is usually because we are told we “are” our Sun Sign. Due to this projection it is often easier to step into the energy of our Sun Sign especially if it is accepted by the culture.

Negative projections on the Sun Sign occur when that sign is “out of favor” in the culture. For example, this happens with Virgo viewed as Cold and Critical, Leo viewed as Selfish, Scorpio viewed as Secretive, etc.

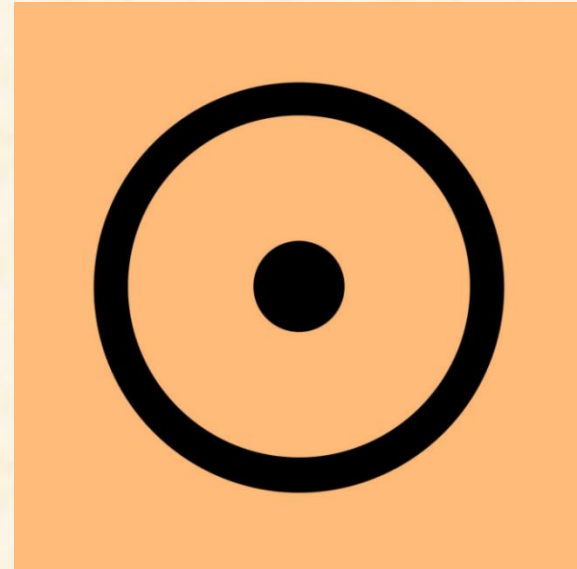

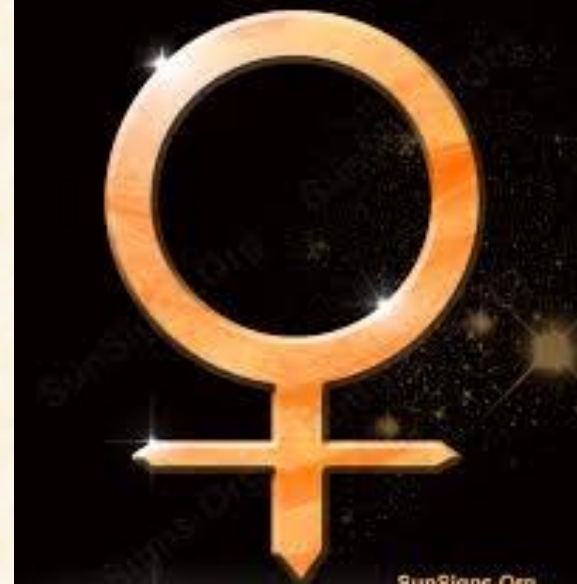

If you have not resonated with your Sun Sign that is usually because the element, modality, and archetype of the Sun and Venus are very different!

In either case, discovering and honoring your Venus Sign, if it is different from your Sun, is a powerful activation, where you may discover unseen aspects of yourself that have been longing to be recognized.

Venus in the Same Sign as Sun

- Though not an exact ratio, about 1 in 5 people have Venus and the Sun in the same sign
- In this live class 9 out of 46 have Sun and Venus in the Same Sign or about 20% - fitting that ratio
- Venus and the Sun in the same sign can show up as either Morning Star, Underworld, or Evening Star. Except for the star phase of Venus if the Sun and Venus are in the same sign it does Not Add Additional Information
- The Sun and Venus in the same sign is a clear and strong declaration of the Goddess you are here to Embody (women) or Integrate (men)
- If Sun and Venus are the same your soul's intent is to fully explore this expression of the Goddess

Venus and Sun on the Man's Chart

- The Sun adds the fuel or energy that a man's Venus burns (same as for women)
- It adds another quality to the Inner Beloved, the archetype of the Goddess he is here to embody, as well as his potential projections onto a partner
- If a man's Venus is in Taurus and his Sun is in Aries he may project onto his partner that she be Physically Beautiful, Sensual, Intimate AND also able to take charge of the relationship
- As men become more clear on the full Goddess expression they are here to experience as their inner beloved, the Sun quality helps in understanding Her more fully.

SUN and VENUS by Sign

When Venus is 10 or more degrees from the Sun she is either Morning Star or Evening Star even when in the same signs.

The Sun Sign after the Venus Sign puts Venus in the Morning Sky. The Sun Sign before the Venus Sign puts Venus in the Evening Sky.

Synthesis of the Sun and Venus

The sign of Venus is always the Lead Archetype for the Feminine expression. This means no matter what sign the Sun is in the Sign of Venus is the primary archetype for the feminine in the current life.

The Sun is NOT Archetypal but rather represents the Fuel or Style of behavior that helps Venus attain her Intent.

The Sun infuses Venus with specific energy that can add understanding to the way Venus is showing up but again the Venus Sign is the Intended expression of the feminine for women and the intended integration of the inner feminine for men.

Sun Venus Deepening Exercises

- Build/ Renew Your Venus Altar integrating elements to symbolize the energy of your Sun Sign. For example, if your Sun is Sagittarius, you might choose an image of someone climbing a mountain peak.
- Create a Collage that brings together your Venus Goddess and the energy of your Sun Sign into a dynamic, integrated piece.
- Set the intention and open your awareness to see, sense, and/or feel the integration of your Sun Venus Alchemy in books, movies, individuals you meet, etc. For example, from the Star Trek perspective, Klingons might be viewed as a synthesis of Aries and Scorpio.
