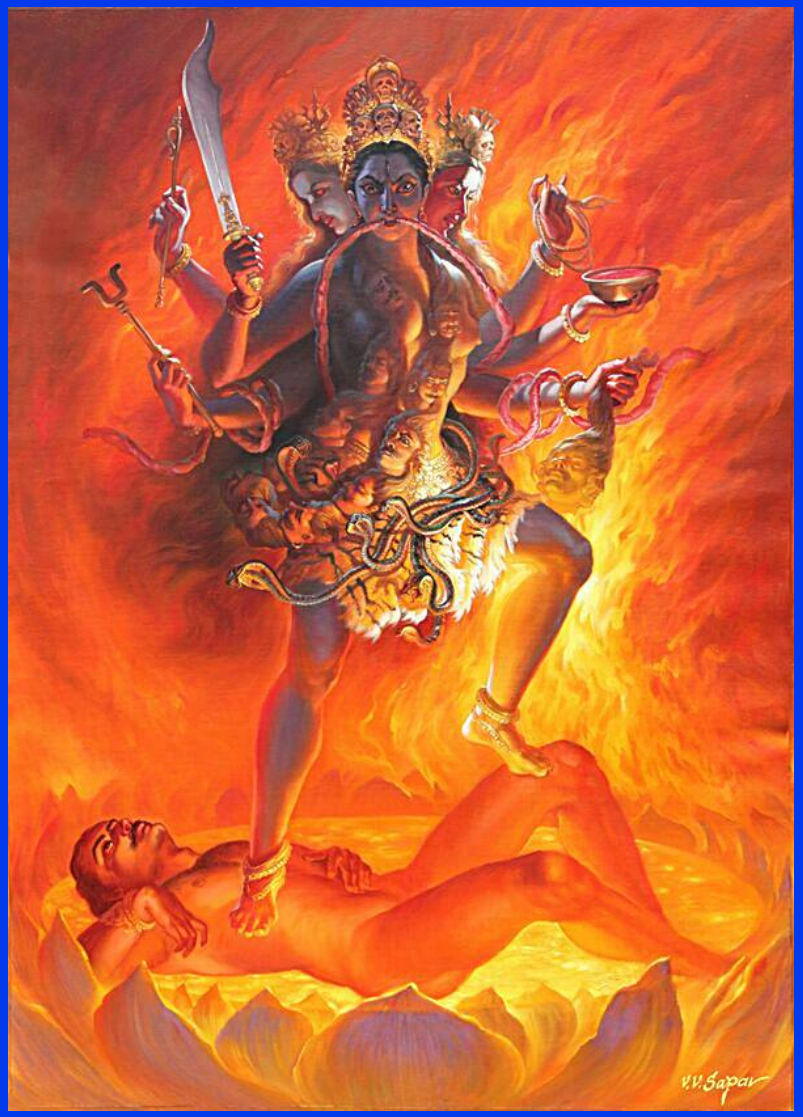
Aries the Kick-Ass Warrior Goddess

As the Aries Warrior Goddess rises from the underworld she is embracing her incredibly awesome Kick-Ass commitment to restoring cosmic justice.

This Warrior Goddess accomplishes this by whatever kick-ass means it takes. Its often messy but necessary.

It is time to join her in actively remaking our world in cooperation with our beloved Earth so we all benefit.



The original mid-wives protected the birthing space as women could easily give birth without help.

How does the Aries Goddess create a safe space – using our ability to listen and express with our voice in ways that help birth a New World?

In this Aries Venus Ascent Journey the time has come to speak up and embrace our Inner Kick-Ass Warrior Goddess as she re-claims her own autonomy and ability to courageously restore the Cosmic Balance within and without. She uses her gifts and talents as an Activist, Entrepreneur, Feminist, Healer, Artist, Politician, Protector of Children and/or others who are vulnerable including the Earth.

What is Just and True for you?

The Courage to be Brave and Kick-Ass will look different for each of us. For some it is having the courage to rise up and make a difference through a noble cause that inspires you. For some it is having the courage to honor your own health and well-being first - then from a place of strength engaging your noble cause aligned with Divine Timing, honoring your Personal Rhythm and Your Inner Voice.

Aries Meta Goddess in Virgo at the Throat Chakra

July 15 to August 6

With clarity and power the Aries Meta Goddess traveling through Virgo at the Throat Chakra speaks up for restoring Just Ways of treating the Earth and Women.

She channels the Goddess in ALL her forms as needed to meet every situation, bringing the world back into balance through re-animation of every Face of the Feminine Divine.

This is the time to find the deepest truth of the Sovereign Feminine and speak from her wisdom and sacred knowing. Where we have been silenced, we find our song. Where we have stifled our self expression we break free and speak with the authority and strength of the Goddess herself embodied through us.

We listen deeply to the messages of Gaia spoken through her many emissaries - the birds, the plants, the trees, the animals, the stars, Sun Moon, and Planets, the winds (air) and other elements including the waters, fire, and earth. Our deep listening inspires right action, aligned with the intelligence and wellbeing of Mother Earth.

Aries Meta Goddess in Libra at the Throat Chakra

August 6 to August 14

The Aries Meta Goddess moving through Libra at the Throat Chakra is a warrior speaking up boldly and fiercely for the new relationship paradigm of mutual love, honor and respect between the masculine and feminine.

She is an advocate for healing the deep wound between men and women, and the emergence of a new Sacred Contract including reverence and respect between the masculine and feminine within and without.

We find new stories, new songs, new prayers and blessings to bring alive a wholehearted reunion between the long estranged masculine and feminine.

This mends the broken heart of our world, and restores balance and harmony, initiating a Golden Age of Equality and conscious equal partnership between women and men. This activates never-before seen bonds of love, intimacy, and affection between all genders now emerging at the Turning of the Ages.

Aries Questions at the Throat Chakra

What truth is mine to share further restoring wholeness for the greater good? What would it take for me to bravely express this truth in ways that others can hear?

What would it take for me to fully reclaim my voice as a way to safely protect others who are vulnerable?

Are there situations, people or communities in my world where I can use my voice to help right wrongs and restore justice?

Can you think of a time
when you spoke up,
even though you were afraid of the consequences?

Maybe you were speaking for someone else, or maybe you were speaking for yourself, or maybe you were speaking your own truth even when it made others uncomfortable.

How did you feel when you spoke? What happened?

Is there something you'd like to speak up about now but you feel afraid of the repercussions?

What would it take to speak your Authentic Truth? How might this transform your life and the world around you?

Speak Up: Even in Your Voice Shakes!

Did you know that your voice is very powerful when you speak from the heart? This month identify one issue that moves you deeply and make the choice to speak about it in a way that feels meaningful and constructive to you.

- Perhaps you feel very strongly about a local candidate running for office. So you decide to do everything you can to support this candidate in getting elected.
- Maybe you see African Americans in your community being targeted by police so you decide to educate yourself, join a local group and speak or write about this issue.
- You may choose a national issue that moves you to create blog posts, FB posts, emails to your extended community drawing attention to the issue and providing ideas for how people can take action to either further the cause or right the wrong.
- You might gather others to collectively raise your voice about an issue that concerns you.

What is most important is you are wholehearted - this is an issue you care about deeply. If this exercise scares you that is even better - as you will have extra power when you speak, write or otherwise address this issue!
