insights, aha's or lingering confusion you have around how the Outer Planets either naturally and/or by transit impact the growth and evolution of your Venus Signature.

Dynamic Aspects

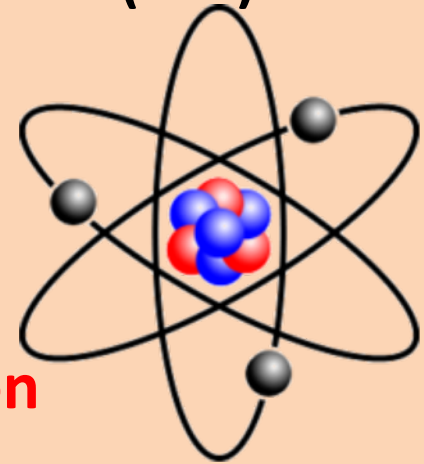

Represents the dynamic energy between the Outer Planets and Venus (or any personal planet). It is the most active energy of all the aspects where challenges happen and growth is the intended result. When these outer planets are in dynamic aspect to Venus (etc.) they are considered Master Teachers and Guides

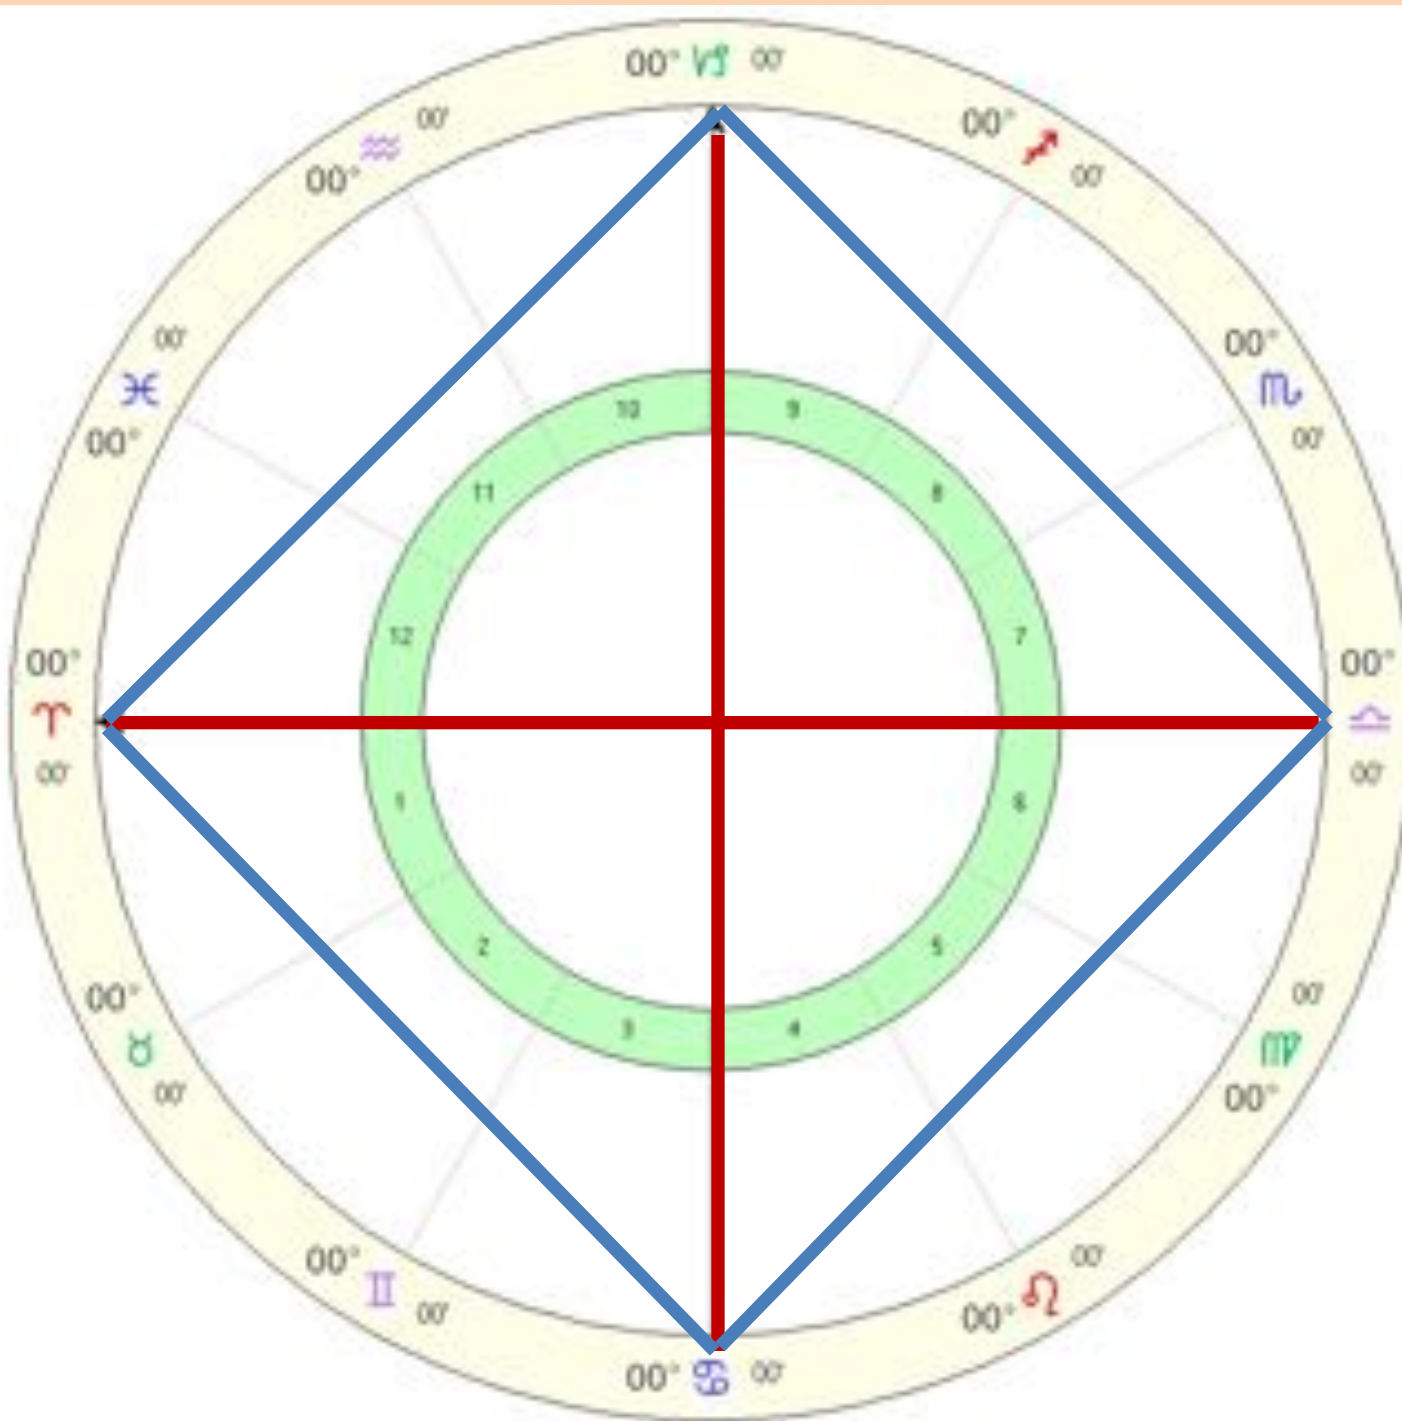

These Aspects include:

Conjunctions \oslash (0°) Intensifies the Energy

Squares \square (90°) Pressure to Decide and Take Action

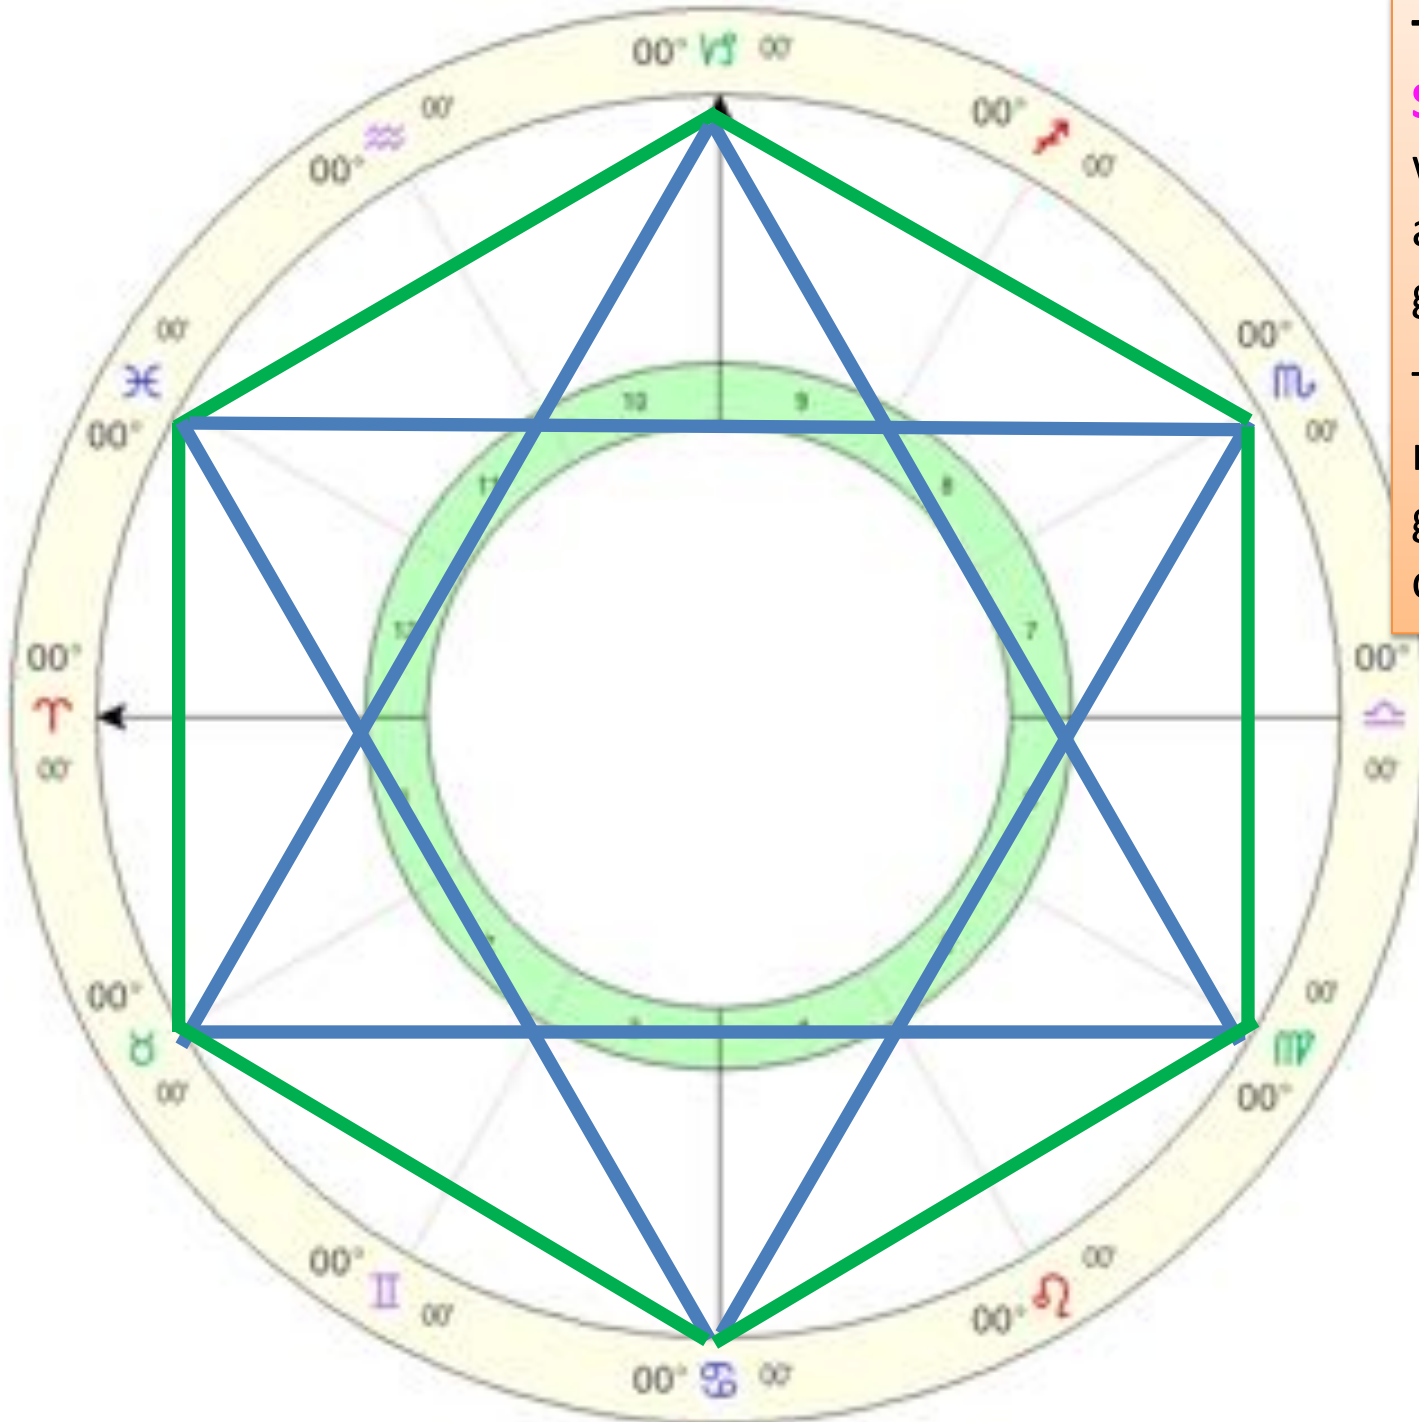

Oppositions \oslash (180°) Full Awareness Possible

Conjunctions, Squares and Oppositions are Dynamic Energy that can't be ignored.

Designed to support evolution and growth

Trines and Sextiles Subtle Energy
with very little (if any) impetus for growth.
These aspects represent inherent gifts we must choose to engage

Questions for Venus with the Outer Planets

- What outer planets are influencing your Venus Signature either by conjunction, square or opposition?
- Perhaps you have no outer planets activating your natal Venus. Perhaps you have one or more outer planets activating your natal Venus.
- Considering these planets are teachers and guides, if you have outer planet influences what additional insights do they provide you about your natal Venus?
- A few examples to consider...
 - Is your natal Venus more unpredictable and unusual (Uranus)?
 - Is it more intense/shamanic (Pluto)?
 - Is it more sensitive/empathic or confused (Neptune)?
 - Is it more self-critical and/or organized Saturn?See class content for more in-depth insights about each of these to help you further formulate your Venus Signature.

We highly recommend you do the recommended exercise of creating an overall Venus Signature using your Star Phase, Meta Goddess, Moon, Sun, Ascendant and outer planet influences as described in the Synthesis class to share in the Q & A to see if you are on track with understanding your Venus Signature?

Simple Venus Synthesis Form

Using your personal Venus Signature fill in the the statements below or create your own Synthesis statement and personal invocation.

I am a (insert Star Phase of either Morning or Evening Star, Inanna Underworld or Metamorphic Underworld)

The Meta-Goddess guiding me through my path of full Goddess Awakening is the (insert Overtone Sign) Goddess.

The Ancient Goddess I have embodied through countless lifetimes is the (insert Moon Sign) Goddess.

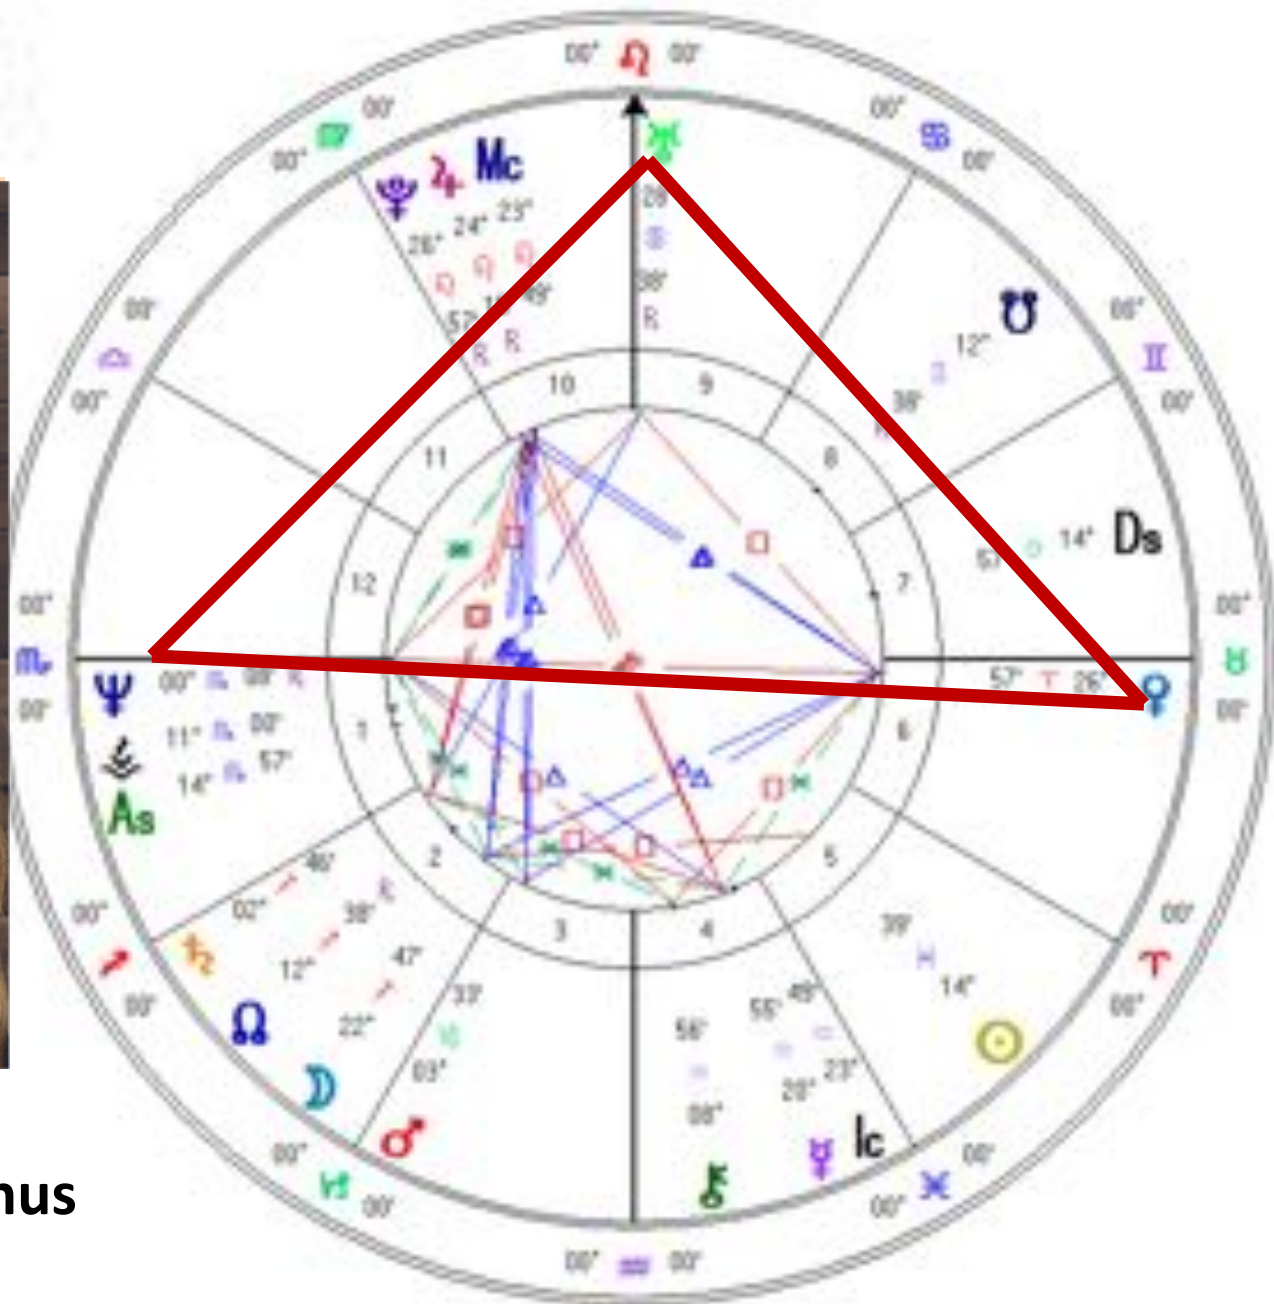

My (insert Venus sign) Goddess is illuminated and Fueled by (insert Sun Sign).

Venus Synthesis Statement: Using language from the class PDFs (or your own understanding) describe the aspects of your Venus Signature we have covered in this class. Create a synthesis statement /invocation that captures the essence. You can also create a vision board around your statement.

Quick Example: I am an Evening Star High Priestess committed to restoring wholeness to the world - guided by the relentless intensity of my Scorpio Meta Goddess to keep diving deeper. The Ancient Goddess I have embodied in many lifetimes is truth seeking and consciousness expanding Sagittarius illuminated by the fuel of compassion and kindness (Pisces Sun).

I came into this life through the Rainbow goddess, as a woman with the gifts from This tribe. A lineage of independent, free, joyful, colorful beings. This tribe does not punish being free, unusual, or different.

Individuality and weirdness, are seen as traits or gifts given to me as a connection to spirit. This kind of freedom to be ones self has its downfall, its difficult to be in a committed relationship. Some of these magic beings come from the stars, to learn what it means to be in relationship to another being. To learn the meaning of inter/relation, in equal relations, where the bond becomes is a being in itself.

Partnership and co/creation and nurture are specially important lessons for me to learn. This means finding a balance between uniqueness and freedom neither of whom have to be sacrificed in order to be in an intimate joyful relationship with another, but had to be balanced.

But first I had to learn to commit. Responsibility, being the commitment to be aware not only on myself but on the needs of others. To care, nurture, support that being while it grows and matures. Being able to fulfill them in an unconditional and joyful manner, knowing that it is, the intent to fulfill my soul purpose.

Estela Bremer Lives in San Pedro Garza Garcia

Venus 00 Libra 02, Gemini Meta Goddess

Moon 17 Gemini 21, Sun 27 Leo 02 Ascendant 08 Cancer 01

I came together with the gifts of the joyful adventurer seeker of truths. This amazing being came through making my defects bigger so I would notice them. That way I was able to tell where my commitment had to reflect in the life of others. This all knowing teacher, made my life full of a variety of interests and questions.

All these quests far away from home brought me closer to it. A clearer Understanding of relations, those were the blocks and those were the gifts. The traveling and learning of other cultures, being an adventurer and an inquisitive seeker of knowledge of the heart.

Little did I know that my precious mind would have to go through complete alchemy. To enter the water realm, having to go through thresholds of deep emotional transformation in order to be complete.

This rainbow is the perception of water droplets in the air hit by sunlight. As the mind catches an emotion that can be expressed as the energy of love through coherent actions. This learning to communicate with actions of love has been scary, to say the least. thankfully I had also the gift of a brave heart to help me through this vulnerable state in order to be able to go through the gates of initiation.

This learning will take me to become a mother, balancing between independence, judgement, friendship, parenting, doubt, authority and empath, through unconditional love to others as well as to myself

In this life i have been a mother to my mother, to my sisters, to my sons and nephews. I had to learn the ways of my culture to then unlearn that I did not have to take a place, that did not correspond me.

Taking care of others joyfully and unconditionally has been a challenge. Now at the coming of my 8Th Venus return at last I am figuring out that letting my old sick mother letting be my mother will erase resentments of the past, that not showing others the way and respecting their choices without judgment and with acceptance of who they are, is love and the best way to nurture it is to let it free.

I AM...the Heyoka goddess that came to embody Juno the libra goddess of relations, without forgetting that i am a free spirit along with the Gemini meta goddess.

I have to learn to be responsible as the wise midnight Gemini goddess ask me to be confident in my solar chakra activations that give me confidence in myself, when i am truthful. Jupiter being by my side all along, its expansion has accompanied me as as gift and as a curse.

Making every mistake and every joy as big as can be.

Many many times, happening at the same time.

Leaving no way out, but through. My Sun in Leo has given me a passionate generous heart that has kept me trying.

The North Node in the 5th house has shown me the creator inside and has given me the light to become aware of the mysteries of the Cancer tribe, to fulfill my soul purpose.

To rise from the elemental waters of the mother as a complete being.

I am a Brilliant Morning Star Goddess claiming my fullest engagement with the Magical potential that lives in the Between, where I learn to live in the present moment, to dance with and in Paradox, and to ultimately embrace the paradoxical as the creative loom upon which universal forces are woven.

The Meta Goddesses that guide me on the Path to full goddess awakening are the Aquarius and Capricorn Goddesses who assist me in honoring the ancient while creating anew...and who are teaching me the TRUE meaning of Sacrifice (born with Aquarius Overtone, changing to Capricorn in 1974)

Born after heliacal rise just one day after Venus's stationing stillness, and just before her first ecstatic reunion with the Moon, the path before me is inscribed with the words "THE STILLNESS THAT IS THE DANCING"

The (Present, Future) Goddess I am here to embody in all of her glory is the Visionary Aquarius Goddess who is radiant with the compassionate and devoted Heart of a Pisces Sun conjoined with Vesta.

Having endured, I am ENJOYING. Having survived, I am THRIVING, Blooming where planted in this once seeming alien society, having fun co-creating a beautiful New Earth garden with others, as I continue to root and reach, reach and root...planting seeds of Hope and Love to honor the One Heart that beats for us all..

I am reclaiming the gifts of intimacy, pleasure, beauty for beauty's sake and re-embodiment of the Aliveness of Ecstatic Life Force as an Earthly and Celestial right. Black Moon Lilith in Taurus assists my 'this lifetime'
Taurus Mystery School passage with the desire, grit and courage to root again in Sacred and

I do not have the square or conjunction or opposition to Venus from the outer planets though they are tied by other aspects. With natal Neptune on the SN and Sun in Pisces and trine 10th house planets, I feel she is a big influencer. Pluto is in a wide opposition (13 degrees) to Venus, so I consider it because of the T square configuration with Moon, ASC, Pluto, Jupiter and Mercury that Venus feels to be drawn into...

Beginning in 1995, Uranus began its transit over my MC and natal Venus. In the spring of that year I had an awakening experience. It was as if lightning struck my head, dramatically opening me to new ways of seeing/perceiving. The theme of the experience was the purpose of suffering. I suddenly understood that perception was key to life experience, that we create our own hells and heavens...A moment of Grace

After many years of seeking, the quick as a flash experience changed my life forever. There was no turning back. I had been living as a victim, feeling the oppression and the acute anguish of feeling different and separate – never wishing to conform, yet feeling always on the sidelines of life. I was empowered through this awakening to live life in a totally different way, taking risks, utilizing voice via advocacy work and finding new ways to share what I hoped were empowering messages with others at the mental health recovery organization I worked for at the time. I felt a sense of purpose, a mission.

Neptune was soon to follow Uranus, transiting conjunct MC and Venus late 1996. 1997. Creativity had always been a healing balm for me and I witnessed the abundant creativity present in the community at the Recovery Initiative.

I began an artist collaborative for “mental health consumers” that was dedicated to the art of healing, joining with others to support our art and to open new venues and vistas for sharing and opportunity that gave voice to individual journeys and their collective significance.

The community at large (in our city) was overall very receptive and supportive, and joined with us offering venues, teachers, practical assistance and we found community artists outside the Recovery Initiative who had experienced similar feelings of marginalization and who joined their voices with ours. These years were simultaneously difficult and rewarding, I learned so much, made mistakes and experienced victories and felt as though I had something of value to offer...

In 1998 (during my 6th personal Venus return – age 48) when Neptune was conjunct natal Venus I painted a painting that is still revealing itself to me and actually has the symbol of Venus on it...

In 2007 right after my 7th personal Venus Return, when Venus rose as a morning star in Leo and was conjunct the Moon at the first gate (also conj. my natal Pluto) I painted Hope is Alive: Everybody is a Star. (see next slide)

Transiting Neptune was then conjunct natal Jupiter in Aquarius and transiting Saturn in Leo conjunct natal Pluto as well.

Here a figure stands on the earth opening into new partially defined vistas and here rainbows are bridging either side of her path opening from an 8 pointed star.....A Sunflower Sun blossoms in the sky...and a Raven is flying overhead...This painting seems to zero in on the disc at the Center of the Venus Symbol in Alchemy 1 - and expands it...

It was painted from a lens of standing in the present, looking back and capturing the journey thus far, and looking into the future - its called Alchemy 1: Awakening.

There are interesting connections I've discovered more recently to the Gene Keys and Human design too...that I hope to write about in detail at another time if only for myself...The poem in the disc reads:

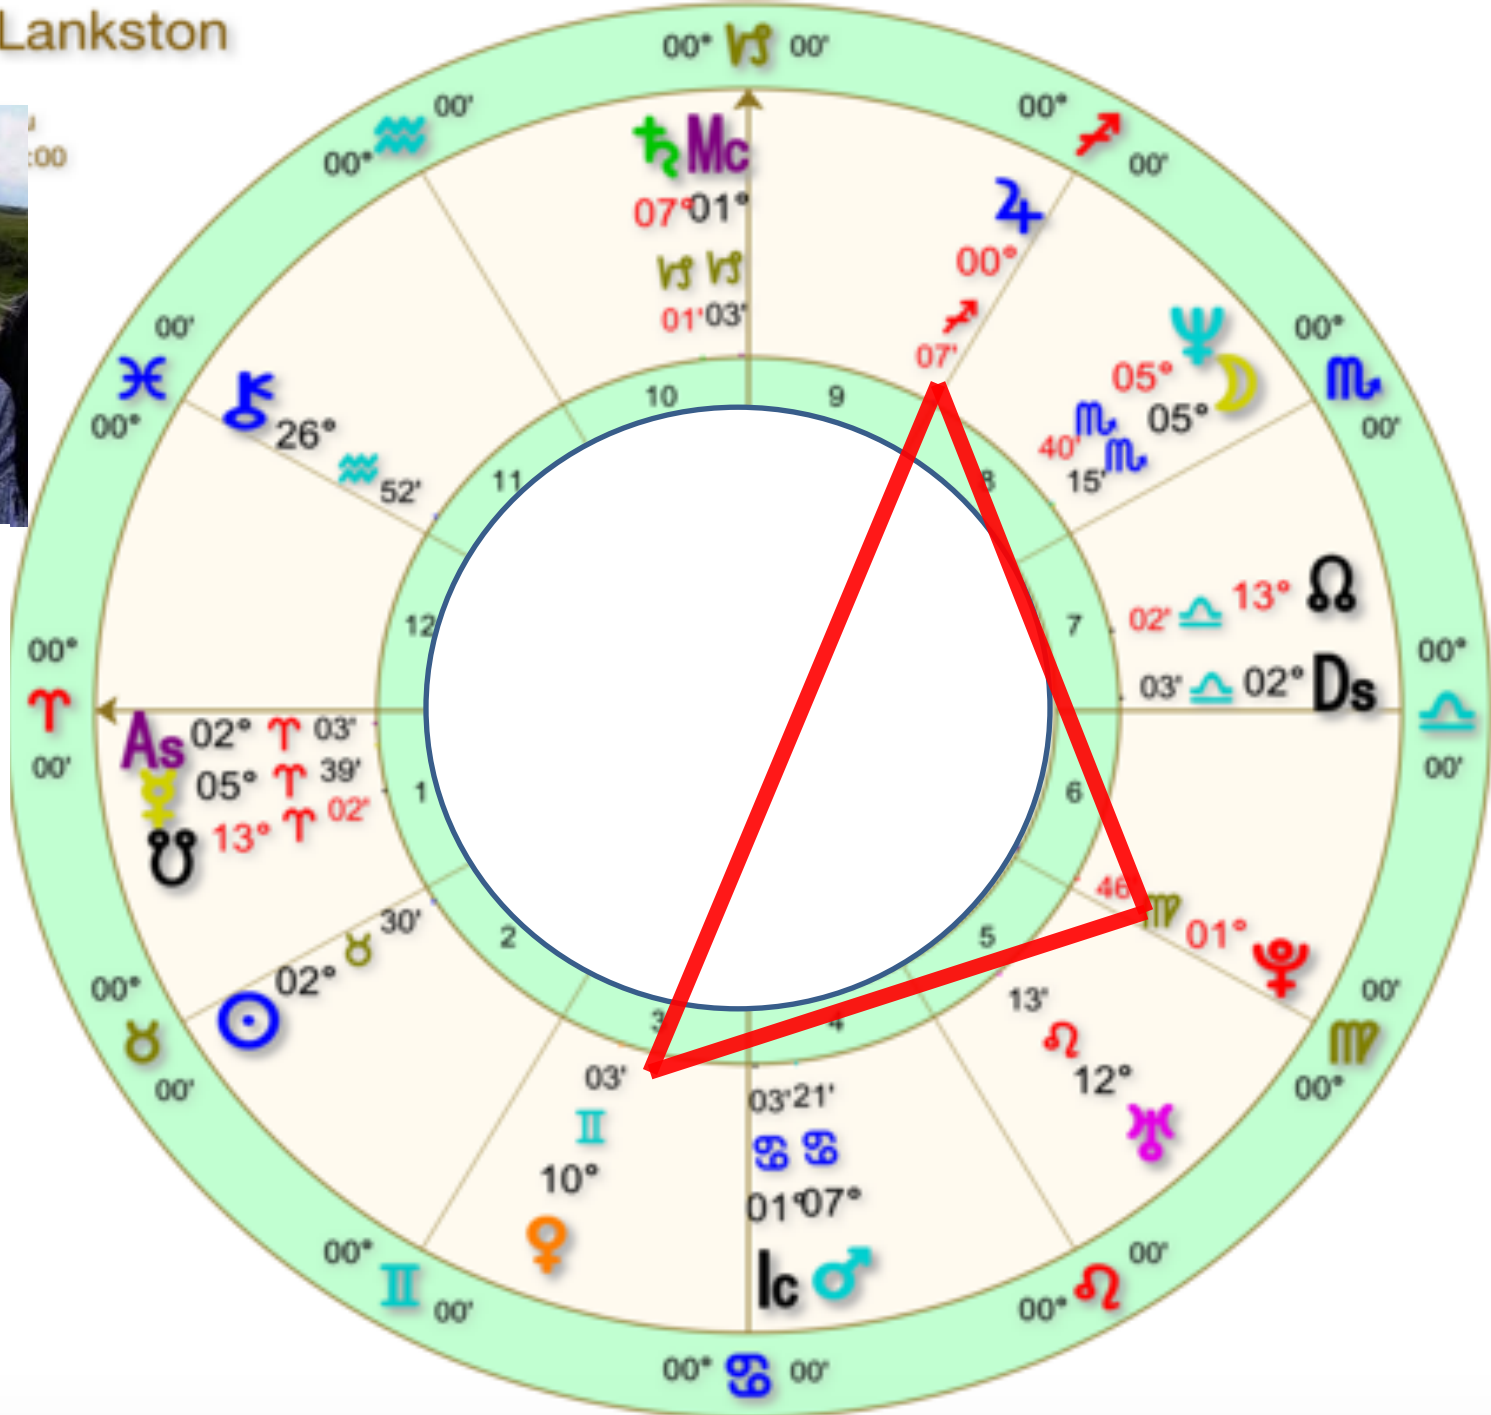

*When Darkness Falls and Time Stands Still
And Forward Motion is Denied
Souls Trapped and Calling from an Abyss Below
Are Crying Bitter Tears into the night
Unheard
Wingless Angels crawl
From separate hells
Shrouded in disparaging shadows
And tormenting words
Then with paint and brush, with pen in hand
Join together to create their collective ascent
Sowing seeds of hope as the dawn arrives
Illuminating spiral stairways into the Light*

I am an evening star Venus, born at the 4th gate - the gate of the heart.

My wild woman, trickster Gemini Goddess is illuminated and fueled by earthy Taurus, sensual lover of beauty and embodied joy.

The Meta-Goddess guiding me through my path of full Goddess awakening is Capricorn, the circle of grandmothers. They hold the ancient wisdom that is needed today.

The Ancient Goddess I have embodied through countless lifetimes is the deep diving, emotionally fearless Scorpio Goddess.

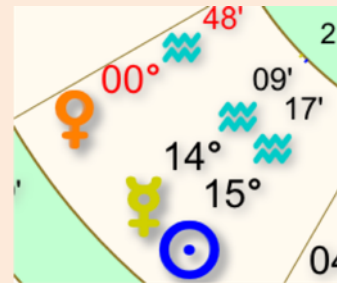

My dreaming Neptune, retrograde at 5 degrees 40' Scorpio, hid my moon and my sacred path for awhile. But now Neptune gives me deep guidance through my dreams.

In this lifetime, I serve the Earth Mother Goddess. My natal Pluto marked this at 1 degree 46' Virgo (retrograde). as did my Sun in Taurus

Ligin Baker Feb 4, 1966 Venus is Retrograde
The Aquarius MetaGoddess just emerged on the world stage. Venus is in Aquarius along with Sun and Mercury

According to my date of birth, my soul might enter my mother's womb during Venus Meta in Gemini, Venus with Moon in Inanna Underworld. How does that impact my Venus overtone in Aquarius having shifted to Capricorn in my current training?

Fascinating Question: There are likely many answers to this. It is interesting to consider the planetary influences in the womb. However, the cosmic blueprint of current life intent (as far as we know) is based on the the moment of birth because we can know that date for sure (and usually the time). Conception is trickier but we CAN know some of the possible influences on the growing fetus.

Since you have Jupiter and North Node in Gemini we can imagine the Gemini Meta Goddess feels significant to you even if you hadn't been in the womb during the Gemini Meta Goddess Cycle but that certainly adds to the strength of the Gemini influence in your life helping to lighten up the seriousness of Aquarius and Capricorn

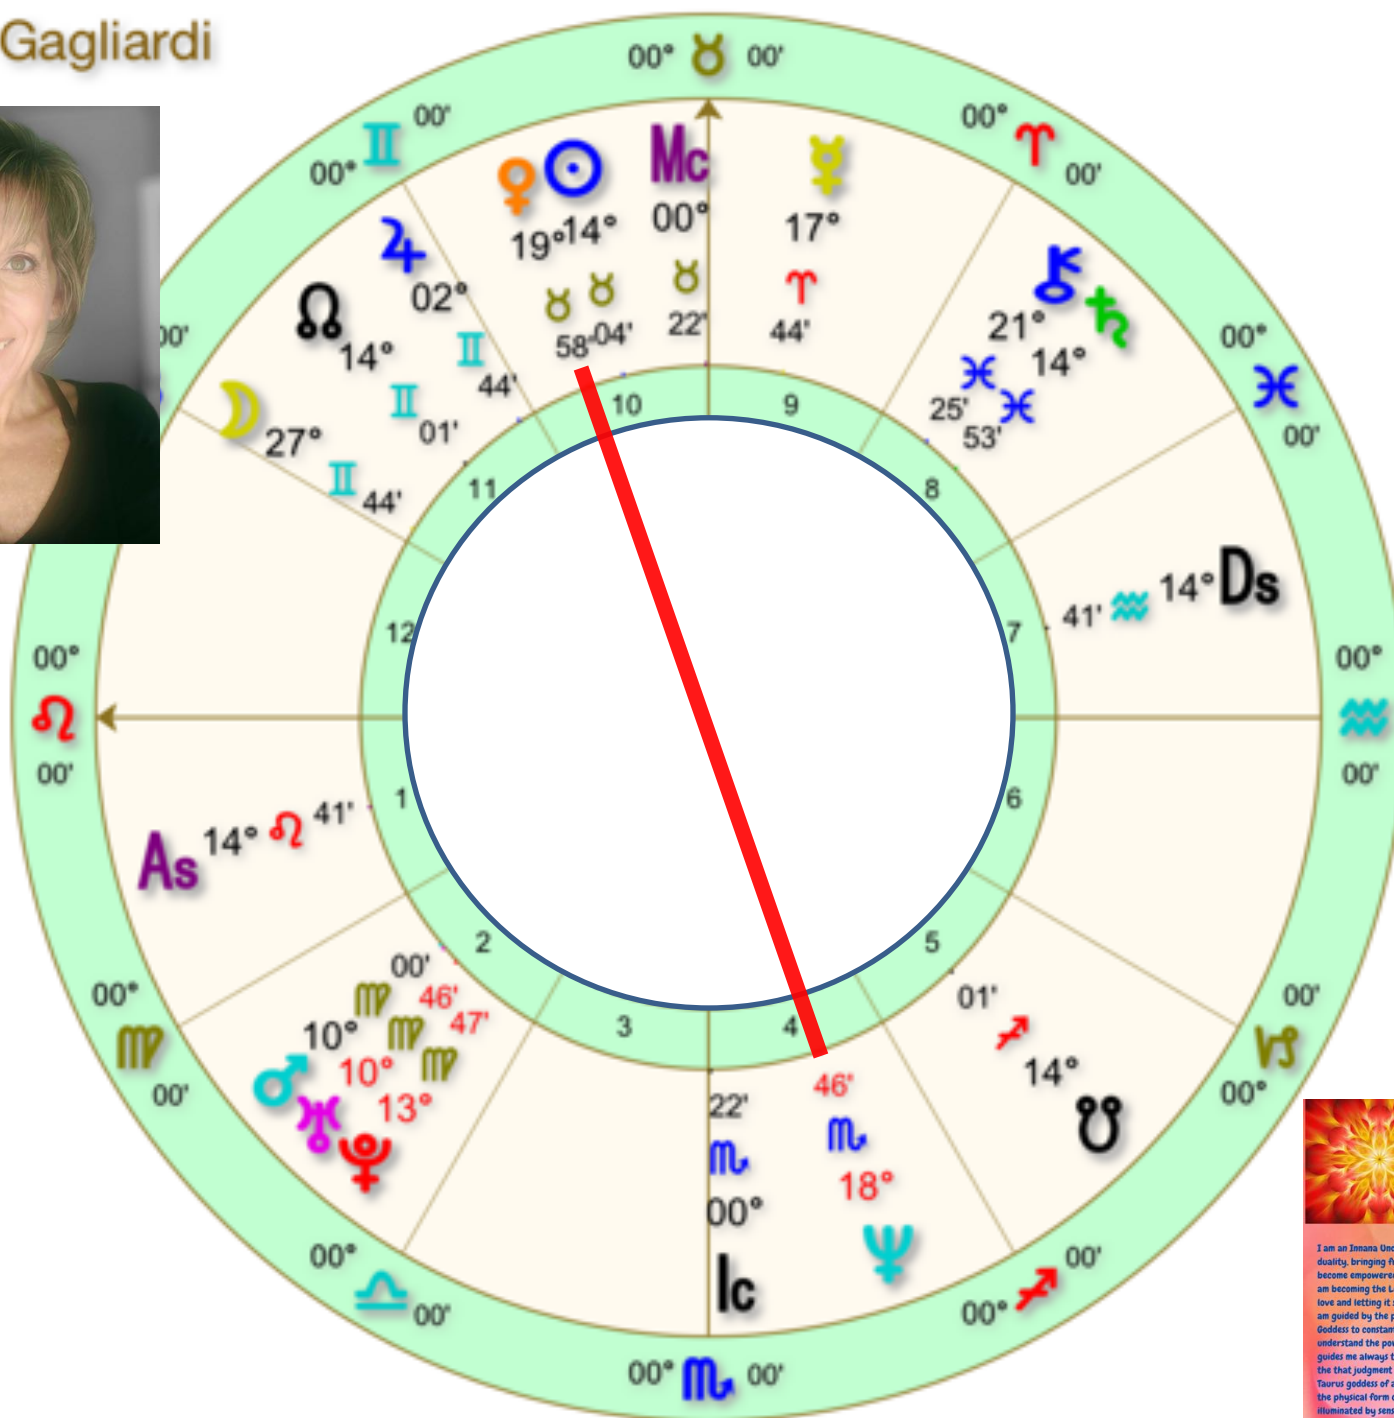

I am an Aquarius Morning Star Goddess with a wise Capricorn overtone on training. I am brave and courageous with an out of box Sun in Aquarius. I am a storyteller with a nurturing Moon in Cancer and an artistic, compassionate, timeless heart organized by Saturn.

SYNTHESIS STATEMENT

I am an enthusiastic warrior who is sacrificing her old identity and patterns to become more whole/holy as the Mistress of Magic, Transformation, Empowerment and Life Force. The Ancient Goddess I have embodied in many lifetimes is a giver in relationships who is learning to put myself first so I can receive, savour and enjoy the sacred pleasures of life in a playful way as I connect creatively in fun and humorous ways with spontaneity to others.

I am choosing to do what brings me joy vs. doing what might please an external authority as let go of the need to be perfect. I am learning to value myself for who I am and not just what I do or think I should do as I set clear boundaries. I embrace Self Love and forgiveness.

I am learning to trust my Higher Power and the messages and symbols that arise during my daily visions and my nightly dreams as I choose to connect with that guidance and not fall into escapism tendencies.

I seek clarity through these divine insights and use that to burn away any confusion.

MY VENUS SYNTHESIS

I am an Evening Star Goddess re-claiming my Sovereign Divinity and Oneness with Spirit through my open Crown Chakra. As a Wise Woman Priestess I am here to support the evolution of consciousness on our planet.

The Meta-Goddess guiding me through my path of full Goddess Awakening is the Radiant and Shining Gemini Rainbow Goddess, Divine Muse, She Who Opens the Pathways and Doorways into the realms of magic and creativity. It is She Who awakens my magical child and inspires my communion with the stars, flowers, plants, trees, stones, rivers, mountains, animals and spirit realms. With Her assistance I am crafting a Rainbow Light body and holding a vision of the New Earth where magic, joy, love, innocence, play and wonder are awakened in the hearts of all Gaia's children.

The Ancient Goddess I have embodied through countless lifetimes is the mystical and compassionate Pisces Goddess who is deeply intuitive, loving and compassionate and who loves to be in Divine Union with All-that-is.

Deborah El'elia Knighton Tallarico

She is a Bodhisattva on the path of selfless service to Spirit and All Life. She is currently going through an initiation with Neptune and is learning to be in the unknown and trust the great mystery. (Transiting Neptune conjunct Moon)

My Emerging, Present and Future Goddess, is here to embody and express the wisdom of the Capricorn Goddess guided by the wise council of the Grandmothers. She is here as a way-shower, ceremonialist and wisdom keeper to guide her local and global community into sacred relationship and harmony with the Earth and ALL Life. She holds a vision of the New Earth where all beings live in peace, harmony and unity. She is currently experiencing a deep initiation with Pluto, Jupiter and Saturn that are deeply transforming her from her very core. (Transiting Pluto, Jupiter & Saturn conjunct her Venus)

My Capricorn Goddess is fully engaged in the Mystery School training of Sagittarius on a spiritual quest for higher vision, meaning and truth. She is illuminated and fueled by the fiery, divinely inspired, expansive, wild and free Sagittarian Sun conjunct Antares and deeply devoted to the Spiritual Awakening and Ascension of Gaia and ALL beings.

The teachers and guides supporting the growth and evolution of my emerging feminine are Jupiter. She is blessed with the brilliant insight and wise council of Jupiter and Saturn who expand and inspire her as well as keep her grounded, structured and disciplined.

All my love, Deborah El'elia August 3rd, 2020 (Aquarius Full Moon)

I AM an Evening Star Wise Woman Priestess & Counselor Guided by the Grandmothers & the Radiant Rainbow Goddess 'She Who Opens the Ways' to the Magic of the Multiverse. I use my Ascending Third Eye Chakra to seek new vision, healing, and a novel side of life on Gaia.

The Gemini Meta Goddess gives me a love of words, music, art, and humor that cannot be concealed. My Gemini Meta Goddess is pleased to assist my Leo training in so many ways. ‘You don’t have to explain yourself to others!’

I accept myself and my creativity with love, for if I cannot love myself, then how can I be free to love others. Warts and all. If only I could remember the punch line to jokes!

My Ancient Goddess who I have served through many lifetimes is the Libra Goddess of relationship. She challenged me to leave behind the comfort of partner and find autonomy.

I am Evening Star Capricorn Venus born far out of bounds, and during the greatest elongation period. Longing to bring order and justice, She teaches me to love and respect Gaia and Her beloved ones, to bring order, compassion, and justice to all- to the best of my abilities. My Venus is illuminated and powered by Scorpio.

My teachers guide me to accept responsibility and leadership.

In turn, I encourage members of my tribe to become who they are meant to be as individuals and serve the greater communities in harmony and justice with compassion.

One teacher brings me dreams and visions of the future. She teaches me through experiences of my own to have deep empathy for others w/o merging and losing myself. It is ok not to be understood.

My gender bending lightning rod professor brings me surprises and shocks that come from outer space, and retreat as quickly as they come. I am changed forever and learning to accept the unpredictable as a gift and to keep notes on those alien flashes of brilliance.

I am an evolving citizen paving the way for a time when all children (of all species) are loved and held as the most precious commodity of the world. I combine curiosity and joy in all I do. I love holding responsibility and doing it in a good way. I nurture my love and acceptance of self and quiet the voice of self-deprecation. The world is my playground. So Be It, and It Is So.

Personal Venus Signature with Meta Goddesses

August 5, 2020 (*written when Venus was in Gemini with the NN of Gemini)

My fundamental connection to the divine feminine is through the Earth and Fire, I have Venus in Virgo in my natal chart conjunct Vesta/Hestia the Goddess of hearth and home, she who watches over the eternal flame.

I am an Evening Star wise woman in training to become a High Priestess, committed to furthering the qualities of Love & Wisdom through dedication and devotion to inner work. Restoring and healing the wounds within myself through integration and resurrection, guided by the connection to serve Spirit through my unique creative self-expression.

I come from the starry realm imbued with Love and Hope for the Human species. I believe my soul chose to come to this beautiful planet Earth, at this particular time, born into an ancestral line to help heal eons of trauma.

I am guided by, 'The Wise Council of Grandmothers' and my own ancestors; who along with the creatures of the Natural World, both seen and unseen, are teaching me along with Great Spirit how to embody my own inner wisdom and knowledge by tapping into the deep roots of the past through Gia's heart awakening in my DNA.

Fay Senner

This guidance comes from the great Aquarius Meta Goddess of Freedom and Revolutionary ideas and dreams. She helps me remember that ALL Beings have a right to their own sovereignty and freedom.

Along with the Capricorn Meta Goddess who is also present, helping to heal that which keeps me small and bound to the past, showing me that a new way is possible-by assisting in building a culture more in harmony with the Earth and the beings that reside upon it.

As I strive to assimilate and integrate all the split parts within myself, (Gemini Moon and AC) quincunx Neptune in Scorpio this energy, though operating on a subconscious level, is aligning more each day with my Soul and Spirit.

I move with ease between the wise use of my intellectual Mind with a compassionate Heart. I shapeshift; zooming out to capture a bird's eye view of the 'Both/And.'

I am here to be a bridge between two worlds - the seen and unseen, to glorify the colors of the Rainbow through a creative, playful Spirit. Planting seeds of Love and Hope into the soil of the New Earth that will serve to feed the souls of future generations.

The Meta-Goddess guiding me through my path is Aquarius. My Virgo Venus sign is illuminating and fueled by my Leo Sun.

The teachers and Guides who are supporting my growth and evolution are the two of you!

And The Council of Grand-Mothers, Versa/Hestia, The Elementals in the Natural World, Gia, and Chiron, and many more I have yet to meet. :-)

Pamela Ashley

I am a Morning Star. The Meta-Goddess guiding me through my path of full Goddess Awakening is Capricorn/Aquarius. I am exploring Venus in Taurus. The Ancient Goddess I have embodied through countless lifetimes is also Capricorn. All this is Illuminated and Fueled by Gemini Sun conjunct Aldebaran.

The teachers and guides supporting the growth and evolution of my emerging feminine is Magdalene/Isis. Venus teachers are Neptune opposing my Venus and Uranus square Venus.

Synthesis Statement

I am an Morning Star Awakener Priestess who is here to bring freedom, remembrance and celebration of essential self through active story telling and deep listening. I am bringing the light of love and collaboration into the social realm and empowering families to be a container of unconditional love and evolution that is expansive, inclusive, and integral in building and sustaining community. I welcome joy, abundance, and manifestation to transform and empower the mystery of love and beauty where ever transformation is needed. I walk the path of for give ness and learning lit by the light of my inner guidance/wisdom, my angel and my higher destiny activation. I share this light through my teaching and creative ritual drama. I empower my sisters to share their truth through the joy of living and sharing their gifts in ways which are rewarding and authentic.

Hello fellow travelers, I'm unable to be live on the call this evening, so wanted to share a few things here in the FB group. I'm very grateful for this class and the depth of exploration it has engendered.

Thank you for the prompts, information, and all of the sharing – an amazing container...

Looking ahead at the PowerPoint, I saw that what I had shared for the synthesis from the class in 2016 was posted there.

Interestingly and synchronistically I just framed that image (which I had planned on doing for a long time) and had just, over the Full Moon time, also created a collage card from that image to put into my deck!

In seeing the image in the slide again I realized another connection to the images that are shared on the class page that I had not put together so succinctly before- the explorations and realizations are ongoing...and have opened into an even deeper appreciation of the journey and it's timings, gratitude and new realizations in the present, as well as inspiration for and great anticipation of future unfolding...in all the colors of the rainbow.

I look forward to spending quality time with the PDF and all that everyone has shared and listening to the recording when it's available...thank you again Cayelin, Tami, and everyone

💕💕 Much love, Sarah
