Tell me a story, sweet mother,
Of the ancestors and their days,
Of how they walked with beauty,
Learning the medicine ways.

As you relate the stories,
I am allowed to see
The importance of every lesson
And how it applies to me

Through another's example
I share the laughter and the tears.
Through another's experience
I learned how love can conquer fear.

Together we can journey
Through those other times,
Reclaiming all the wisdom
Of the legacies left behind.

The Horns of the Bull are on the eastern edge of the Milky Way where the Milky Way crosses the Ecliptic creating a Galactic Cross in the sky at the Edge where we look out beyond our Galaxy.

The Bull (especially the Bulls Horns) have had an important role in many ancient mythologies including the Egyptian concept of how one enters the Elysian Fields as the hero/ine must pass by the bull who is guarding the route to the Elysian Fields.

In Greek and Roman mythology, the Elysian Fields was the home of the blessed, a location or state of ideal happiness also known as paradise.

White Buffalo Calf Woman Prophecy

Black Elk Prophecy and The Sacred Hoop

White Buffalo Calf Woman gave the Lakota the gift of knowledge about the Sacred Hoop and the sacred pipe. She taught the people the seven sacred ways to pray.

When a White Buffalo calf is born, it is a sign to the people their prayers are being heard and that the promises of the prophecy are being fulfilled.

On May 16, 2023 at a Bear River State Park in Wyoming a white buffalo calf was born to a 2-year-old white buffalo mother.

There are now about 50 White Buffalo out of the 500,000 buffalo in the world. In 1933 there were less than 500 buffalo left

Black Elk from the Ogalala Lakota had a vision of the Sacred Hoop bringing all nations back into harmony with each other.

He saw it would take 7 generations from the time of the massacre at Wounded Knee in 1890 to heal those wounds or around the year 2040.

The Sacred Medicine Oracle, by Asha Frost an indigenous medicine woman (Anishinaabe, Nawash First Nation)

Seven Generations Legacy

Every thought, kind word, and intentional action has an impact seven generations back and seven generations forward.

You are to be commended for your dedication to creating a healed way. Spirit witnesses you walking gently upon this earth, respecting your kin and all of creation.

This card is calling to you to be a good ancestor, inviting you to reflect on the legacy you are leaving behind. What values are you currently aligned with, and where can you refine them even more to walk a path of integrity?

If you have descendants, infuse them with love, truth, honesty, respect, humility, bravery, and wisdom. These are the seven Grandfather teachings, and we do our very best to build a sacred relationship with them.

If you don't have direct descendants, see that walking in this way will still lead you too the path of a good ancestor, for your care for the plants, the animals, the trees, the water, and the rocks have great impact. With every step, your actions create ripples. Your loving presence matters.

Sacred Ceremony

Seven ancestors from your lineage stand around you in a circle, each holding one of the Grandfather teachings in their heart. Your feet are firmly planted on the earth, and they beam the energy of these teachings into you.

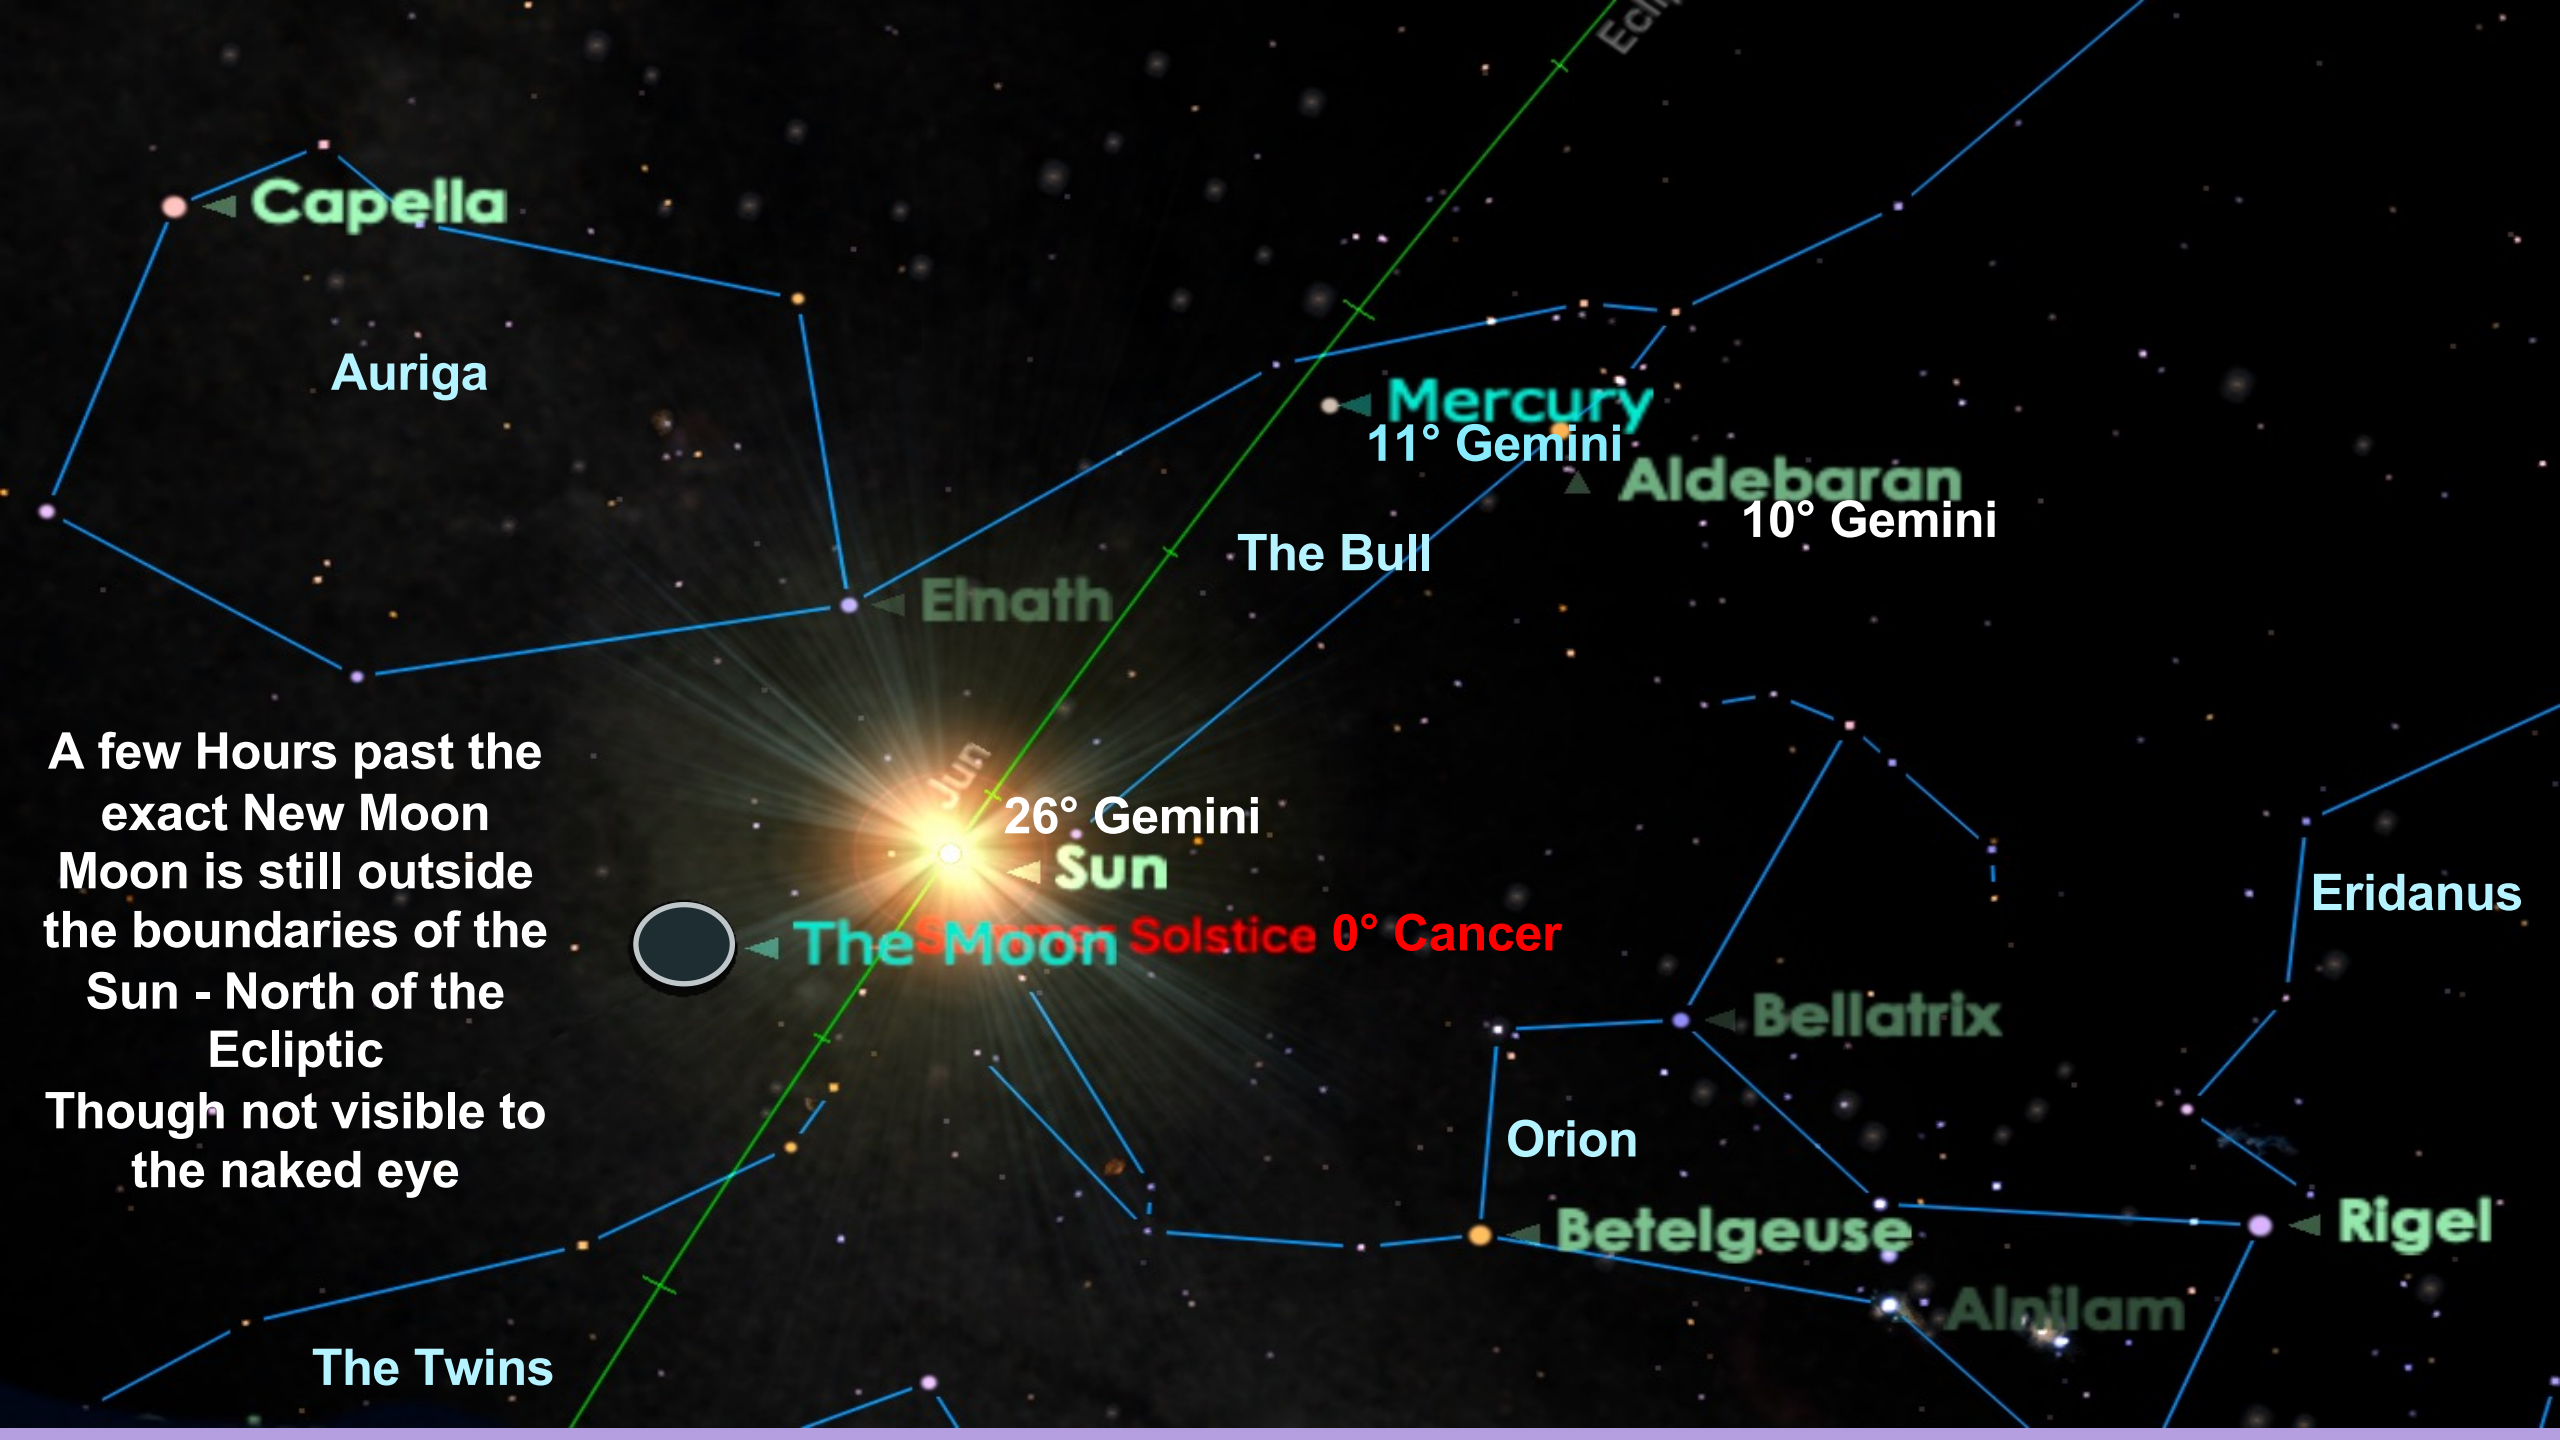

Love. Truth. Honesty. Respect. Humility. Bravery. Wisdom.

They radiate through you more deeply, and you affirm your connection to walking in a good way. You claim your place as a good ancestor of the future.

Healing Affirmation

I attend to the values I wish to walk into this world so that the past heals, and a beautiful and sacred future is planted.

Venus is starting to slow down as she approaches her retrograde station on July 22.

This means Venus and Mars won't make an exact conjunction. They do come within less than 4° in early July.

By mid-July Venus has slowed down and by July 22 Venus and Mars are about 9° from each other.

Reclaiming the Crown Chakra Capricorn Meta-Goddess with Venus in Leo

June 5 – Oct 8 ←

The Capricorn Meta-Goddess creating through Leo offers us the path of radical self love as service to others. She teaches us to reclaim our Sovereign Selves to assist humanity. She is the Grandmother Queen, anointed by the Goddess to lead with Love. She enjoys creating her own reality, encouraging our visioning. She overflows with so much love that she invites us to love ourselves as fiercely. Her divinity inspires our connection to spirit. Her fire opens our crown chakras to live our Divinity. She invites us to be the star of our own lives, radiating her bright sunshine on everyone blessed to be around her.

Mighty Capricorn Goddess leading us to our Divine Selves with radiant Love, please help us to know our sacred natures. Help us to serve others through celestial connection to the Goddess, acting as her emissary here on earth. Helps us to honor our inherent Queen-ness and Sovereignty within.

- ❖ What am I now creating with my Divine Powers?
- ❖ How do I experience the pure fire of the Goddess within Me?
- ❖ How does reclaiming Divine Love empower me?
- ❖ How does my Self-Love radiate out into the World?

The Capricorn Meta Goddess remembers her divine knowing and authority

Questions For Capricorn Evening Star at the Crown Chakra

- How am I reclaiming my own divine authority, no longer giving it away to others who I have believed or was led to believe knew more than me?
- How Can I reclaim and LIVE my divine authority in the best, most beneficial, most harmonious, most wise ways for myself and all life?

Using Light For Healing and Uplifting

You Can Send Divine Light and Love To:

- Your physical body for healing
- A situation you are challenged by
- A pattern, habit or addiction you want to transform
- A relationship you are struggling with
- An individual who is struggling or sick
- A situation in the world that concerns you
- The Earth for Her Rejuvenation and Healing

How to Do It

- Set Sacred Space: In a quiet space light a candle, incense or smudge, invite the directions, include Helping Spirits
- Bring Light into your Crown Chakra and then into your whole body.
- Complete by placing your attention, intention and hands on your Heart Chakra while feeling the power of the love light flowing through you as you direct it into the world.
- Express gratitude for this healing gift of love and light.

Practices for 7th Chakra

Bless your World

Cultivate a daily blessing practice, actively praying for or blessing your self, your living space, your community, the land – wherever you are and whatever is in your sphere of influence.

Example: I love and bless myself with pure love and light and pure source energy.

I love and bless _add whatever works for you: myself, my home, my family, my community, my world_ with pure love and light and pure source energy.

Practices for 7th Chakra

Celebration of Self List

Write a list of things you are celebrating about yourself. Consider where you feel joy or contentment in your body, spirit, emotions, relationships, work, etc. Be specific and detailed as possible. Read your list out loud daily. I am celebrating my willingness to reclaim my whole self. I celebrate my courage and commitment to embrace who I am even when it feels messy. I celebrate my healthy daily practices feeling wiser, more alive and more joyous every day.

Create Your Own Crowning Ceremony and Coronation Oath

Reclaim your divine authority by placing a crown (or something that represents a crown) on your head yourself or have someone do it for you. Craft a statement you say out loud. Here is an example:

I claim and embrace my authority as a sovereign being - in charge of my own destiny.

I claim and celebrate my wise inner knowing as my divine birthright guiding me in joyfully living my life purpose.

As I claim my sovereign wholeness, I am living increasingly healthy, fun co-creative experiences that serve all of life.

Full Moon – CELEBRATION!!!

Honoring the Crones – Dolly Parton

Since the mid-1980s, Parton has supported many charitable efforts, primarily through her Dollywood Foundation. She grew up in severe poverty and no one famous has done more for the education of the poor than her.

- Imagination Library in 1995, was inspired by her realization that young people in rural areas and poor families already fall behind when they start school and that this prevents them from pursuing higher education.
 - The goal of her program was for every child in her district to receive one book, once a month, from birth to kindergarten, completely free of charge, without any conditions. It started as an initiative in her hometown and has spread to a huge number of countries around the world. By 2018, over 100 million books were distributed in this way. Currently, over 1600 local communities provide the Imagination Library to almost 850,000 children each month across the U.S., Canada, the UK, Australia, and the Republic of Ireland.
- When 900 families lost their homes in the 2016 fires, through her “My People Fund” she paid each family $1,000 for the next six months. When she came to the bank to finish the paperwork, she gave each family an additional $5,000. A total of nine million dollars.

Honoring the Crones – Dolly Parton

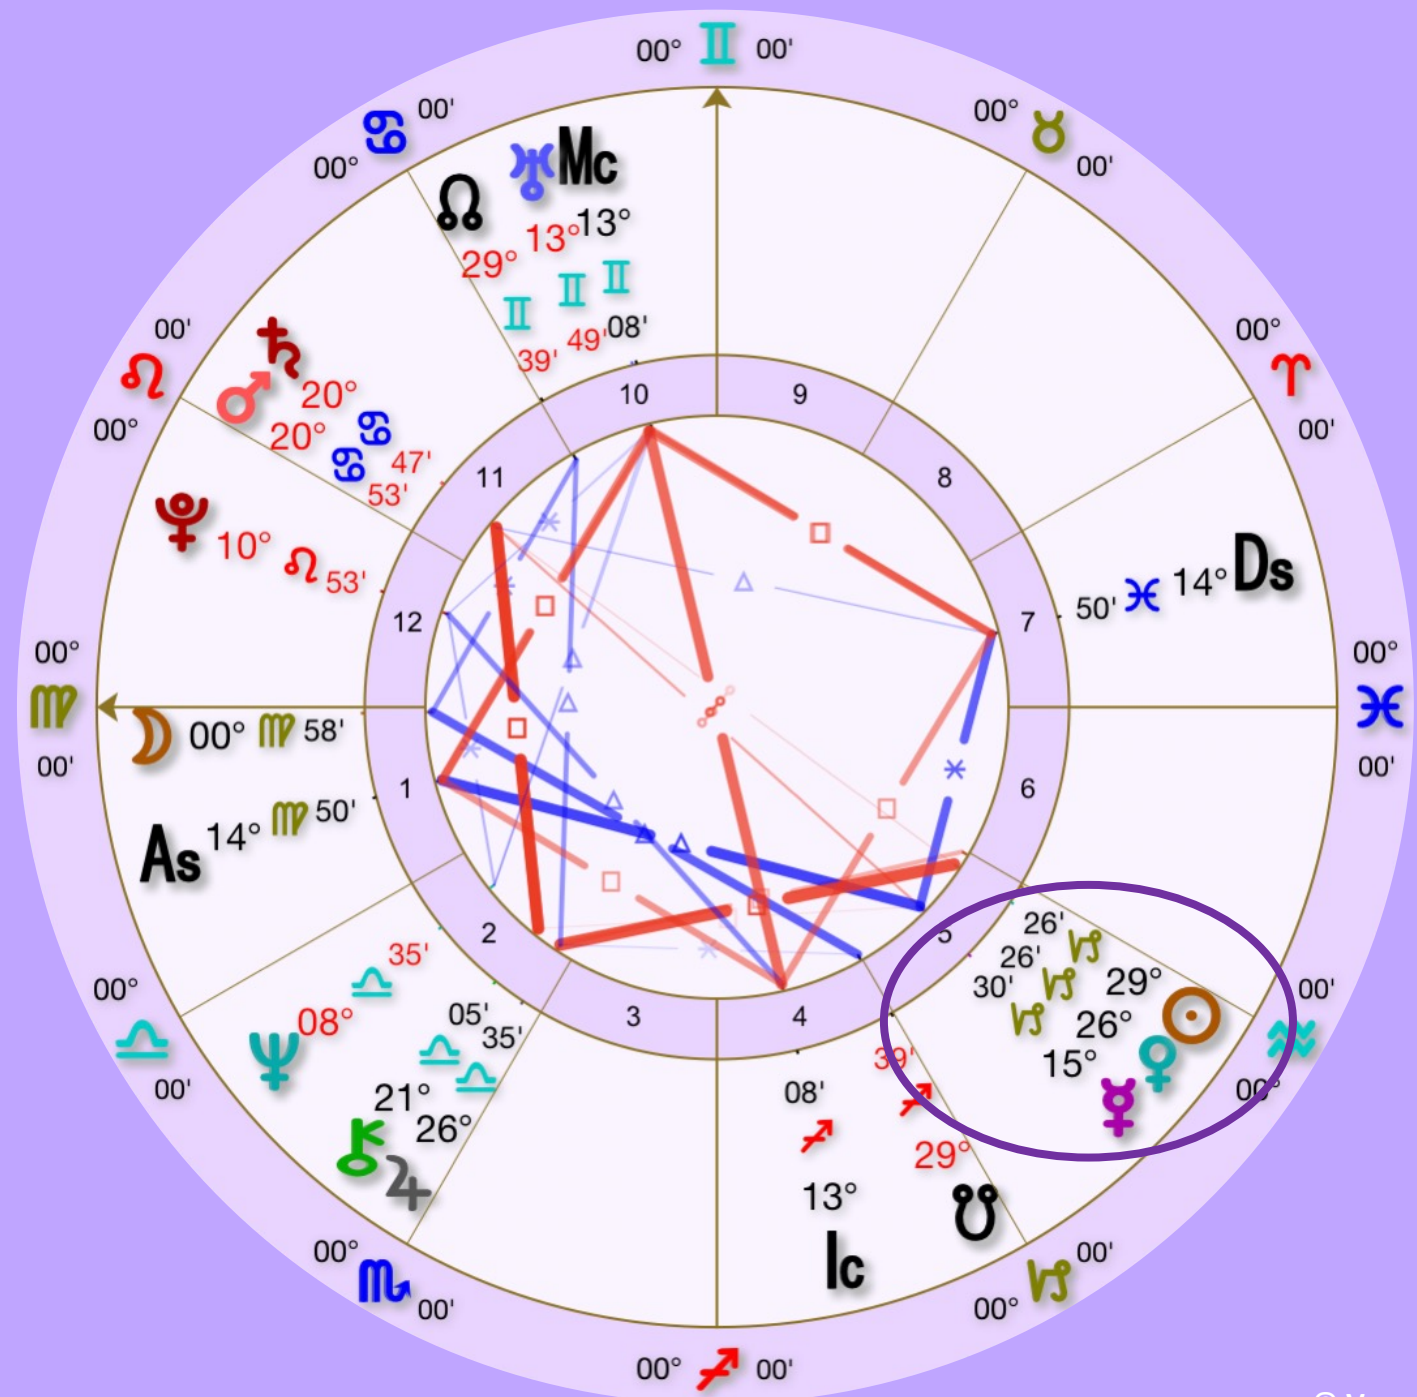

- Stacia West, Univ of TN social work professor, studied the impact of these cash gifts saying, "Following the monthly disbursements of unconditional cash assistance, participants were able to return to baseline financial stability reported prior to the wildfire, and improve their ability to set aside savings for hypothetical future emergencies."
- In 1990, the percentage of students who did not graduate from high school in her hometown was over 30%. She introduced the "Buddy Program", where all high school graduates received a nice sum when they graduated. It wasn't just money, she personally came and explained the concept to them - everyone should find a buddy. Everyone had to sign that they will graduate and do everything in their power to ensure that their buddy also graduates.
- She taught young people about friendship and helping. The number of school dropouts dropped from 30% to below 6% and has remained so until today.

She is also known for her witty statements, at the beginning of her career she said - "I'm not offended by jokes about stupid blondes because I know I'm not stupid... and I'm not really blonde either."
