In times past the Priestess constellation disappeared behind the Sun in August. It was connected to Astraea until the Catholics decided this was the way to determine the Assumption of the Virgin Mary when she reunited with her Son/Sun.

The Virgin Priestess now disappears around September 13 into Early November when it rises into the morning sky — once it is far enough away from the Sun to be visible again.

<http://www.lf8.org/taboo/TheSecretTeachingsofAllAges.pdf>

This constellation of the Virgin Priestess in ancient Egypt was drawn on the zodiacs of Dendera and Thebes and was identified with the Goddess Isis (she had a thousand names), who formed the Milky Way when she dropped the wheat from her hand. [Allen, Star Names].

Manillus, in his book Astronomica, written in the 1st Century AD described Erigone (Priestess) as a constellation that bestows high eminence through supreme power from living the sacred code, tending with reverence the hallowed temples of the gods.

In his book The Secret Teachings of All Ages, Manly P. Hall describes how the Assumption of the Virgin Mary is a parallel to Astraea rising into the Heavens when “she flew away to the stars”.

Virgo in Greek is Ergon, Latin is Erigone. ERI – early (referring to early in the day) and – gone refers to child, procreation, seed.

Greek ergon derivatives in English are:
energy, erg, ergonomics, work, organ, organize.

Astraea, Greek for starry, was the last goddess to leave the Earth when humans became violent, greedy and unjust connecting this constellation with the Justice card in the Tarot.

Astraea was known for assembling the elders to spread kindness to the people. She was queen of the people, abundantly supporting everyone's needs through her kindness.

The Leo Meta Goddess Venus Moon conjunction in the Priestess Constellation features healthy personal power, resilience, and of course strength.

When the Empress and Lioness work together they have the strength to change the world they experience into a more kind, caring and loving way to be!

Porrima 10°Libra 27'

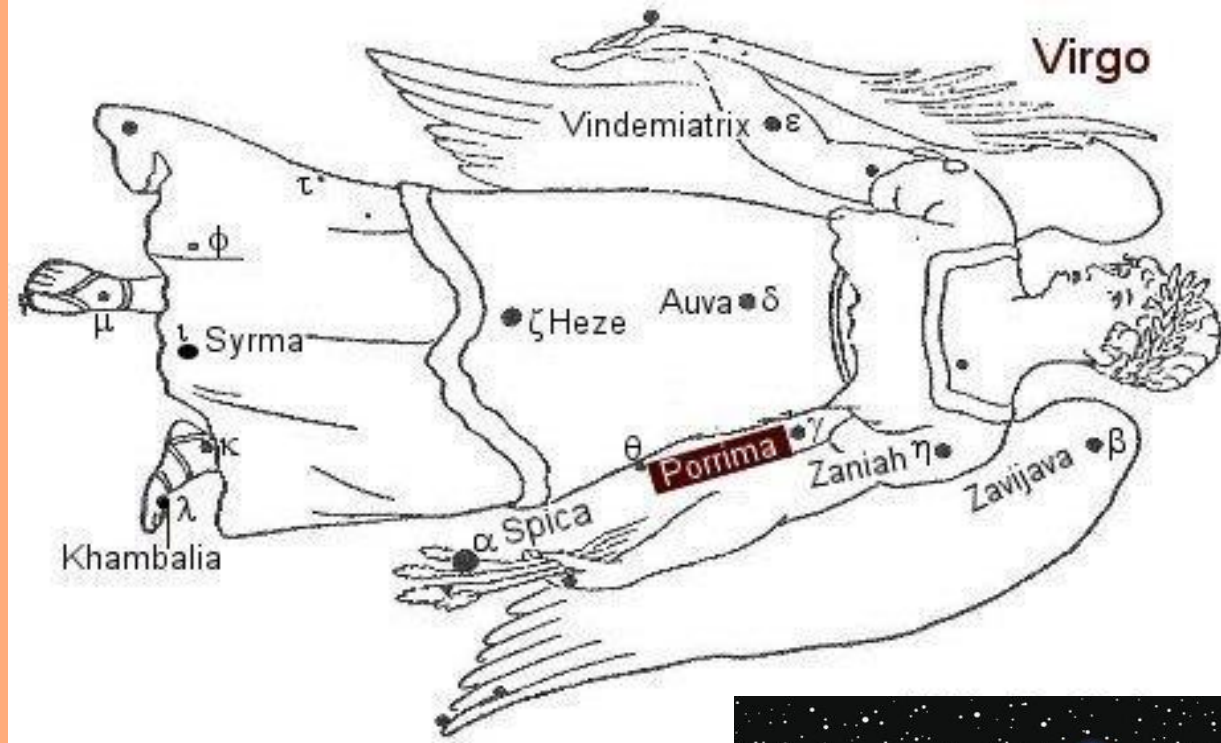

The Sept 5 Venus Moon Conjunction is near the star Porrima in the Priestess constellation.

This star name comes from Ancient Rome also known as Antevorta or Postvorta one of the Goddesses of Prophecy and invoked by women in ancient times.

Porrima has been linked with the Empress Tarot Card.

This is a binary star system with nearly identical stars of similar magnitude in brightness.

The two stars are close enough they can only be seen with a telescope. We see only one star with naked eye observation.

Reclaiming our Power at the Sacral Chakra Leo Meta-Goddess with Venus in Libra

thru Sep 22

The Leo Meta-Goddess continues her journey through the relational Libra realm — serving others. She explores understanding herself through her personal relationships and the mirror reflections they provide. She attunes her antenna to harmony and peace but ultimately is gathering the wisdom not to sacrifice herself for others. She collects more love for herself as she perceives herself more accurately in the looking glass others symbolize for her. She is learning to love her whole self.

She empowers our sacral chakras by reflecting to us to our divine creative sovereignty. Seeing our Goddess selves, mirrored by our Souls through the lens of our sacred relationships, she guides us to understand ourselves and reclaim our inherent pleasure and creativity at our sacral chakras.

- What would it take know and understand my divine, generative nature?
- How is it I am now experiencing pleasure and joy guiding my awareness of who I truly am and what I enjoy?
- What would it take to feel I am empowered to create with joyous flow?

Reclaiming our Power at the Sacral Chakra Leo Meta-Goddess with Venus in Scorpio

Sep 22 — Oct 17

The Leo Meta-Goddess now refocuses on serving her-Self through the deep Scorpio Goddess — diving into her desires, senses of aliveness and cultivating her life force energy within. She acutely experiences both the highs and lows, magnetized to the swings of the pendulum. She wants to feel everything, as a path to unfolding her divine nature and creatrix Self.

She empowers us through following our passions and what turns us on. Whatever opens our hearts and stirs our sacral wombs is her craving. She shows us the way of freeing ourselves through shadow work — understanding instinctively that is where our true gifts are hidden. Like the phoenix, she rises into her power from the ashes.

She floats freely both inside the cave and at the eagle's heights. She guides us to feel as deeply as possible all the emotions in our wombs, inspiring our creative forces to birth as we reclaim our essential life force energy at our sacral chakras.

- What would it take to understand myself even more deeply and honestly?
- How is it that I now encourage myself to embrace the full range of my emotions, without filter or judgment?
- What would it take for me to feel more empowered in my divine creativity?

Who are the Leo Sacral Chakra Demons showing up for you?

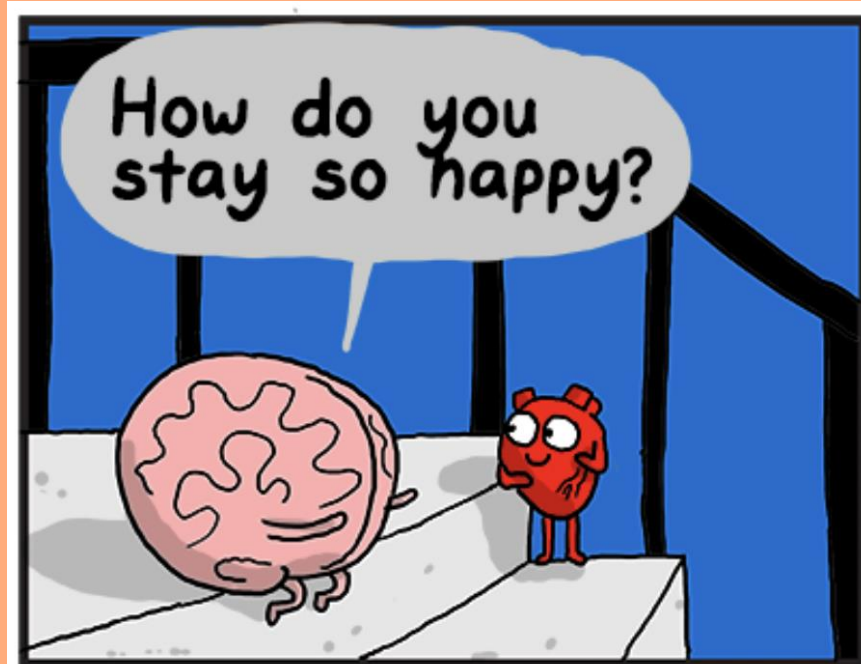

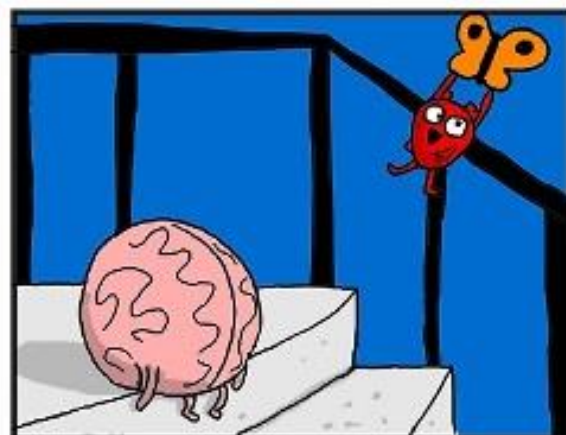

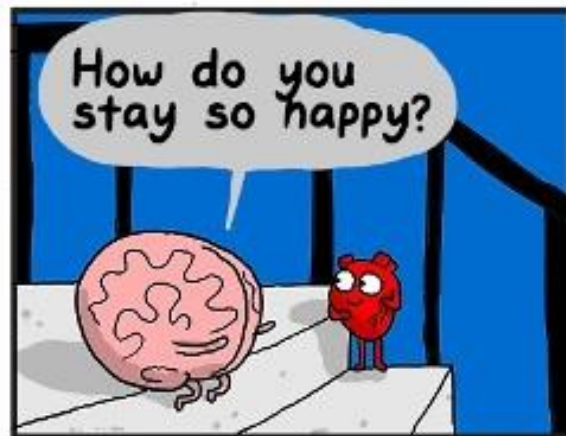

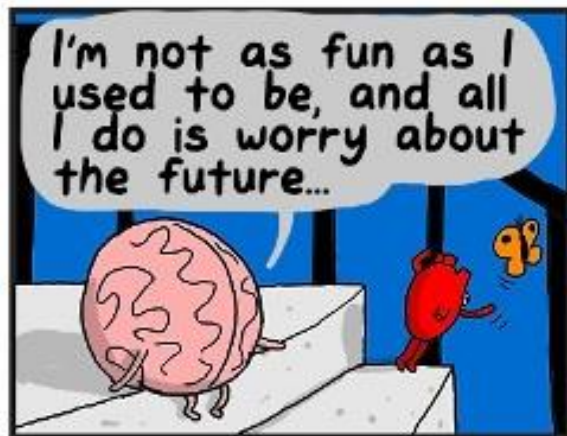

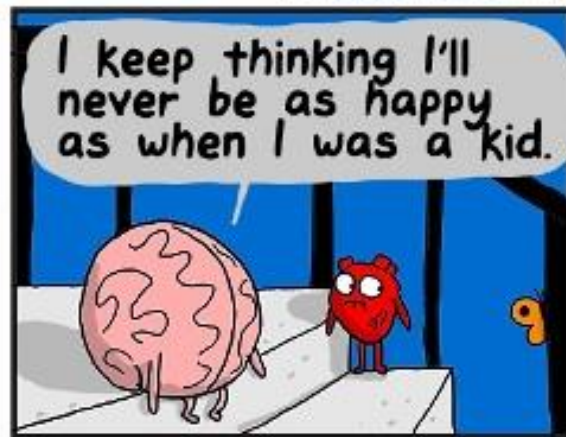

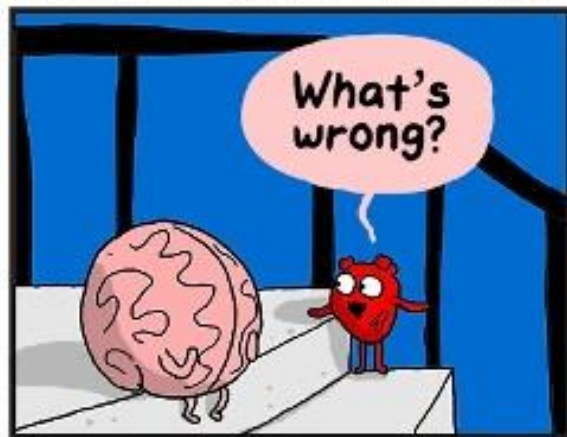

- Judging choices as unwise, impractical, insufficient
- Fear of NOT ENOUGH – money, time, creativity, resources
- Fear your efforts will produce little or no real results
- Assessing your value based on how much you accomplish and achieve or how much money you make
- Trying to live up to an external standard that isn't you
- Assessing your value based on what you think others think of you
- Assessing your value based on an external standard that isn't you
- Fear of sharing your creative expression because you're afraid you're not good enough
- Blocking the flow and/or creative force within you
- Fear of your immense creative power
- Not valuing or recognizing what feels good and pleasurable

AWKWARD YETI

The Leo Meta Goddess Reclaiming the Sacral Chakra and a Healthy Experience of Intuition

It is time to reclaim your knowing without knowing how you know.

Trusting and acting on feelings coming from your internal wisdom rather than from external circumstances.

The energy of the universe is within because our bodies are made from the pure source energy of the universe.

When you connect with your intuition, you're connecting to your true self that has always been with you.

Practice trusting your inner knowing by following your inner promptings or guidance.

For example, if you are taking a walk in nature and you get a sense to go a different way than what you were planning - go for it - and then pay attention to what signs show up as confirmation.

“Intuition is really a sudden immersion of the soul into the universal current of life.” ~author Paulo Coelho

Clairsentience

It means clear feeling and is an extrasensory (6th sense) linked with the ability to instinctively feel what isn't perceptible with our 5 senses.

How do to know if a message is coming from fear or intuition?

Intuition Based	Fear Based
Feels right, easy and expansive	Feels anxious, worrisome and has a negative emotional charged.
Has a sense or feeling of certainty	Feels uncertain
Is beyond rational thoughts, neutral	Pushing/Pulling and Overthinking hoping to feel certain
Has a compassionate and affirming energy	Reflects past psychological wounds, feels scary
Is unattached to outcome	Is attached to outcome
Based in a Healthy Secure Ego	Based in an unhealthy insecure ego

Our opportunity is being true to our intuitive guidance even when it's difficult or someone else will be disappointed.

When you say "No" to something that doesn't feel right to you, you're saying YES to yourself.

When you do what's right for you, ultimately everyone gets taken care of in the process

Don't just listen to your intuition - act on it.

You can engage your intuition every day in smaller ways, like when deciding what to wear or what events to go to.

Notice ways you get internal intuitive signs showing up as a feeling or a deep knowing that doesn't necessarily make rational sense. Dreams, images, words

Notice external signs in your environment.

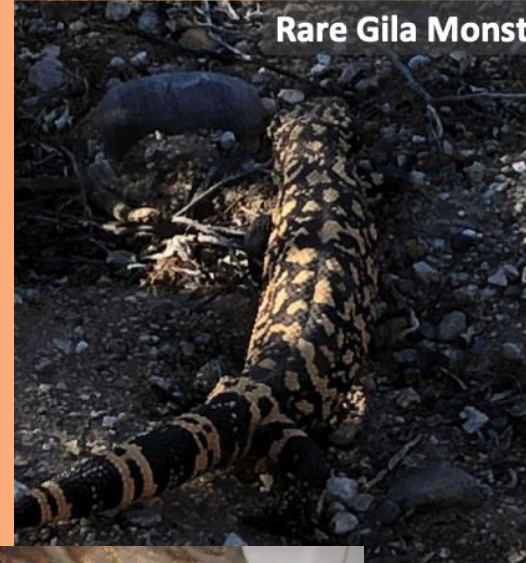

You can also ask for specific signs. Then, watch for them!

ASKing for Signs.

Ask for a dream symbol before you go to sleep.
Keep a journal by your bed to record your dreams.

Oxytocin is released when we hug someone for at least 10 seconds, when we are in love, or when we do anything romantic. This is the "love hormone" or "hug hormone."

Oxytocin supports feeling love, trust, and warmth.

This is Mary Magdalen's personal story of her tantric relationship with Yeshua ben Joseph, known today as Jesus Christ. A love so deep it has survived over 2000 years of lies, to be finally told now, in this, "the beginning of the ending of time."

A High Initiate of the Temple of Isis, Mary Magdalen was the Holy Grail, the cup that carried the blood of Christ. And the long-prophesied "Sun" that was born to her was a girl named Sar'h (Sarah).

In the Magdalen Manuscript, given by her...she describes the alchemy that she and Yeshua practiced.

This is the alchemy that prepared him to sustain life after death, so that he could meet his destiny and lay a trail of light through the death realms, a light path each of us can follow.

This is Her Story, revealing some of the deepest secrets of the Temples, as requested by Isis.

"For now, I tell you that within the heart and the mind and the body wisdom of the feminine lies some of the greatest secrets and greatest powers, and they wait to be revealed."

Honoring the Queens – Hatshepsut

Considered one of Egypt's greatest pharaohs — a female pharaoh who reigned for nearly twenty years in the fifteenth century B.C. Hatshepsut's reign introduced a period of immense artistic creativity. She is one of the few and most famous female pharaohs of Egypt. Hatshepsut was only the third woman to become pharaoh in 3,000 years of ancient Egyptian history

- Known for her use of architecture to make political statements. Hatshepsut brought wealth and artistry to her land.
- She undertook ambitious building projects, including the enormous memorial temple at Deir el-Bahri, which is considered one of ancient Egypt's architectural wonders.
- Another great achievement of her reign was a trading expedition she authorized that brought back vast riches to Egypt from the Middle East
