VENUS represents the Divine Feminine

She symbolizes an exploration of the Divine Feminine through many different archetypes.

She is not limited to concepts like romance, relationships, personal aesthetics, or values around money and material possessions.

Instead, Venus is the Sacred Feminine Archetype, the Goddess Herself, in ALL of Her many aspects – from Aphrodite to Kali to Inanna to Sekhmet to Hecate - from Aries to Pisces.

Venus illuminates the path of embodiment, guiding us to ground deeply and fully inhabit our bodies.

She embodies the divine feminine—an invitation to awaken, rise, and reclaim our presence. To be rooted. To be in flow. To be with ourselves in wholeness and truth.

Through her, we remember that grounding is not just a practice but a return—to our essence, our inner wisdom, and the sacred rhythm of being.

Hinduism: the divine feminine is often associated with Shakti, the energy of the universe, and is personified in various goddesses.

Judaism: In Jewish tradition, the Shekhinah is seen as the feminine divine presence of God, representing God as a mother, nurturer, and protector.

Christianity: In some Christian traditions, the Virgin Mary is seen as a representation of the divine feminine, as is Mary Magdalene.

Native American Traditions: include figures like the "Grandmother" or "Mother Earth," who are seen as keepers of life, fertility, and wisdom.

Gnosticism: explored the divine feminine, often represented by figures like Sophia, as a vital aspect of the divine.

The Descent of Inanna

The first written story found on clay tablets is about Venus from the ancient Sumerian myth of Inanna's Descent describing the cosmology of the Venus Cycle

- The story of Inanna's Descent begins when Venus first appears in the eastern morning sky before sunrise.
- For ancient Sumerians, Babylonians and Mayans, the Venus cycle starts when Venus becomes visible, not at the exact conjunction with the Sun, similar to the first visible Crescent Moon was (and is) the true New Moon to the ancients.

More on the Venus Cycle as Transformational Alchemy

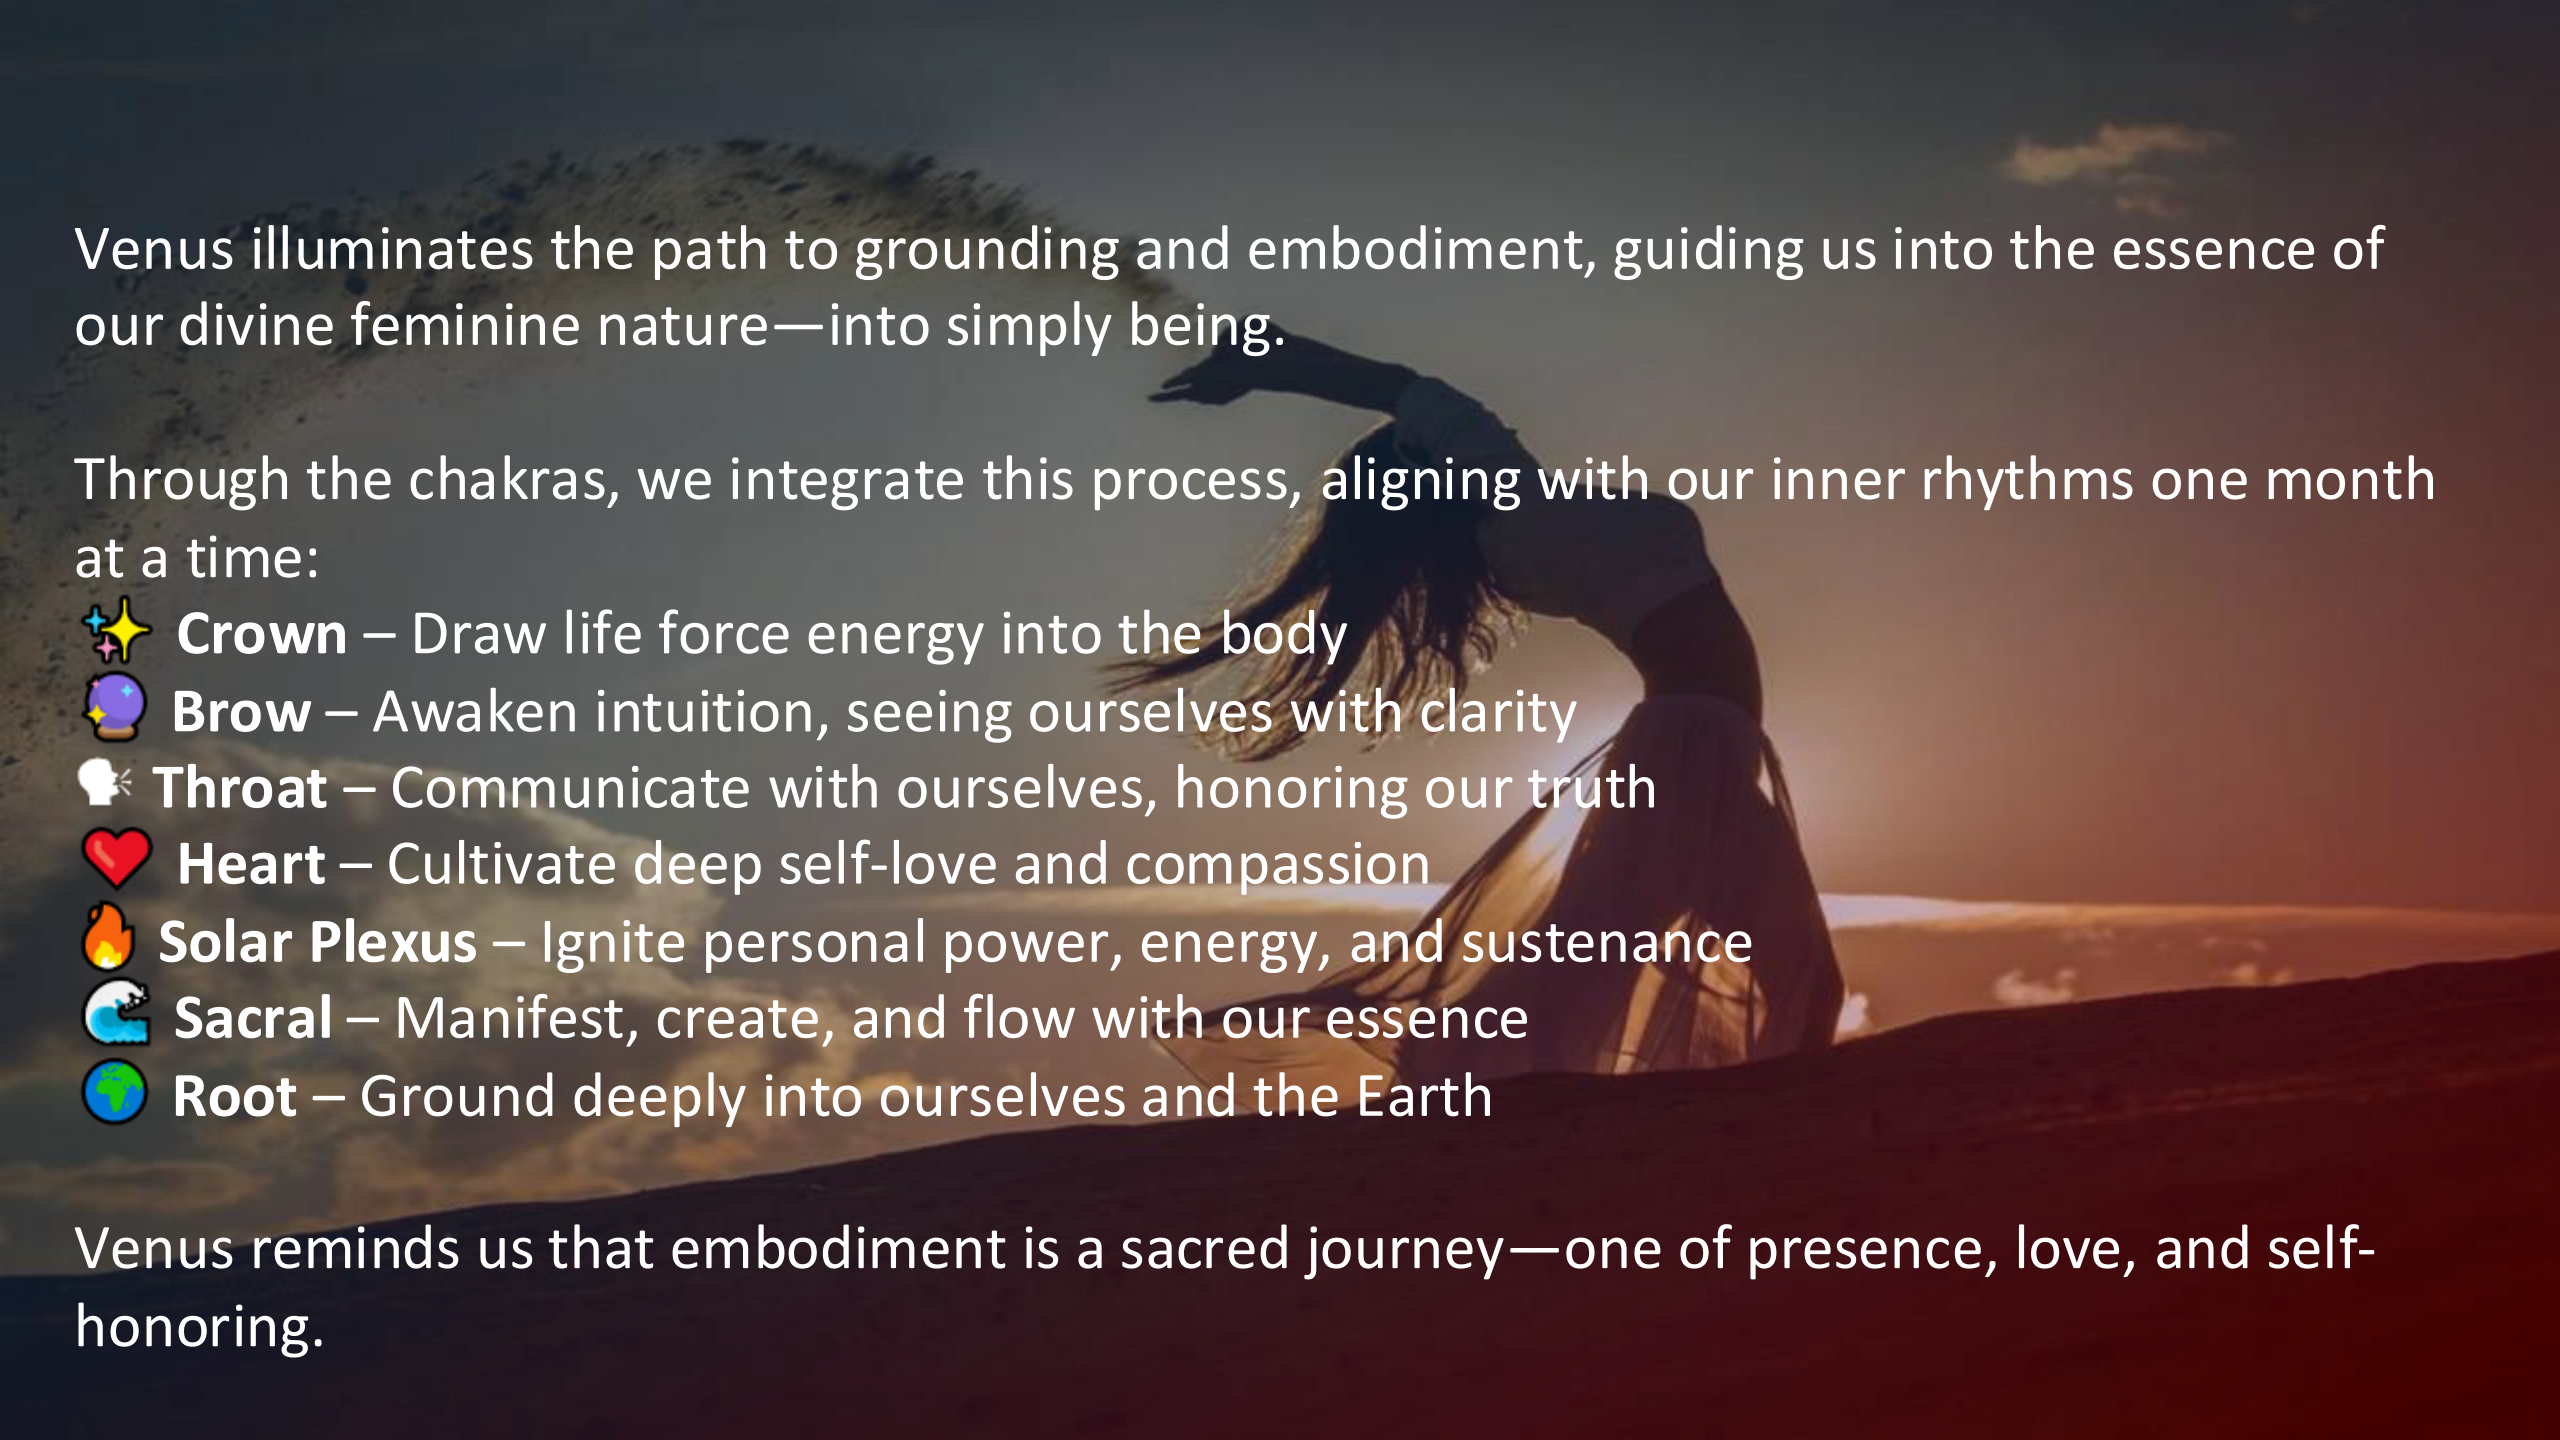

➤ There are 4 main phases of the Venus Cycle

- Morning star
- Underworld
- Evening star
- Metamorphic underworld

Offering a unique perspective on where Venus is in her Initiatory Journey

- In the story, Inanna passes through 7 gates descending into and ascending back out of the Underworld.
- Venus meets with the Crescent Moon, in the morning star phase, once each month for 7 or 8 months, representing the Chakra Gates.
- in the Underworld Venus meets with the Sun for 60 to 90 days then rises as evening star meeting with the Crescent Moon 7 or 8 times before going retrograde.

Venus illuminates the path to grounding and embodiment, guiding us into the essence of our divine feminine nature—into simply being.

Through the chakras, we integrate this process, aligning with our inner rhythms one month at a time:

- ✨ Crown – Draw life force energy into the body
- 🔮 Brow – Awaken intuition, seeing ourselves with clarity
- 🗣️ Throat – Communicate with ourselves, honoring our truth
- ❤️ Heart – Cultivate deep self-love and compassion
- 🔥 Solar Plexus – Ignite personal power, energy, and sustenance
- 🌊 Sacral – Manifest, create, and flow with our essence
- 🌍 Root – Ground deeply into ourselves and the Earth

Venus reminds us that embodiment is a sacred journey—one of presence, love, and self-honoring.

5 Synodic Venus cycles equals 8 years

The sign Venus occupies when rising as Morning Star is the Meta Goddess or Divine Feminine Essence being initiated in our collective reality for the next 19-months and is where the Inanna Story begins.

We emphasize the moment Venus becomes visible as our ancestors did.

Depending on your location,
Venus rose visibly in Aries for some and in Pisces for others.

This is a uniquely special Venus cycle activating the intersection between Aries and Pisces

From Star Walk Article

March 18-21: Dual visibility of Venus

Venus is called the "evening star" and the "morning star," depending on when it appears. But this March, something rare will happen!

Around the Venus Sun Conjunction on March 23, Venus was visible in both the morning and evening skies for a few days in the Northern Hemisphere. It won't happen again until 2033.

This is due to Venus having an ecliptic latitude of 8.4° north meaning Venus isn't perfectly in line with the Sun, but rather above the Sun.

At mid and northern latitudes, Venus appeared both after sunset and before sunrise for a few days (from around March 18 to 21).

In some Arctic regions, where the Sun doesn't rise at all, Venus may have appeared and disappeared without the Sun ever coming into view.

In addition, in late March in the Northern Hemisphere, the ecliptic makes a steep angle with the horizon in the evening and sits low down in the morning. This means the Sun sets quickly in the evening and rises slowly in the morning.

Because of this arrangement, Venus is still visible in the evening sky just before the Venus Sun conjunction and begins to be visible in the morning sky as well a few days before the conjunction expanding our perception of the uniqueness of this Venus Cycle.

Considerations around the archetypal blending of Aries Pisces

- Our unique selves serving the collective
- Balance between healthy selfishness and healthy selflessness
- Finding compassion for ourselves as we walk our individual paths
- How our power lies in uncovering our authentic-whole selves with pure divine love
- Healing ourselves so we can create a better world in communion with Spirit

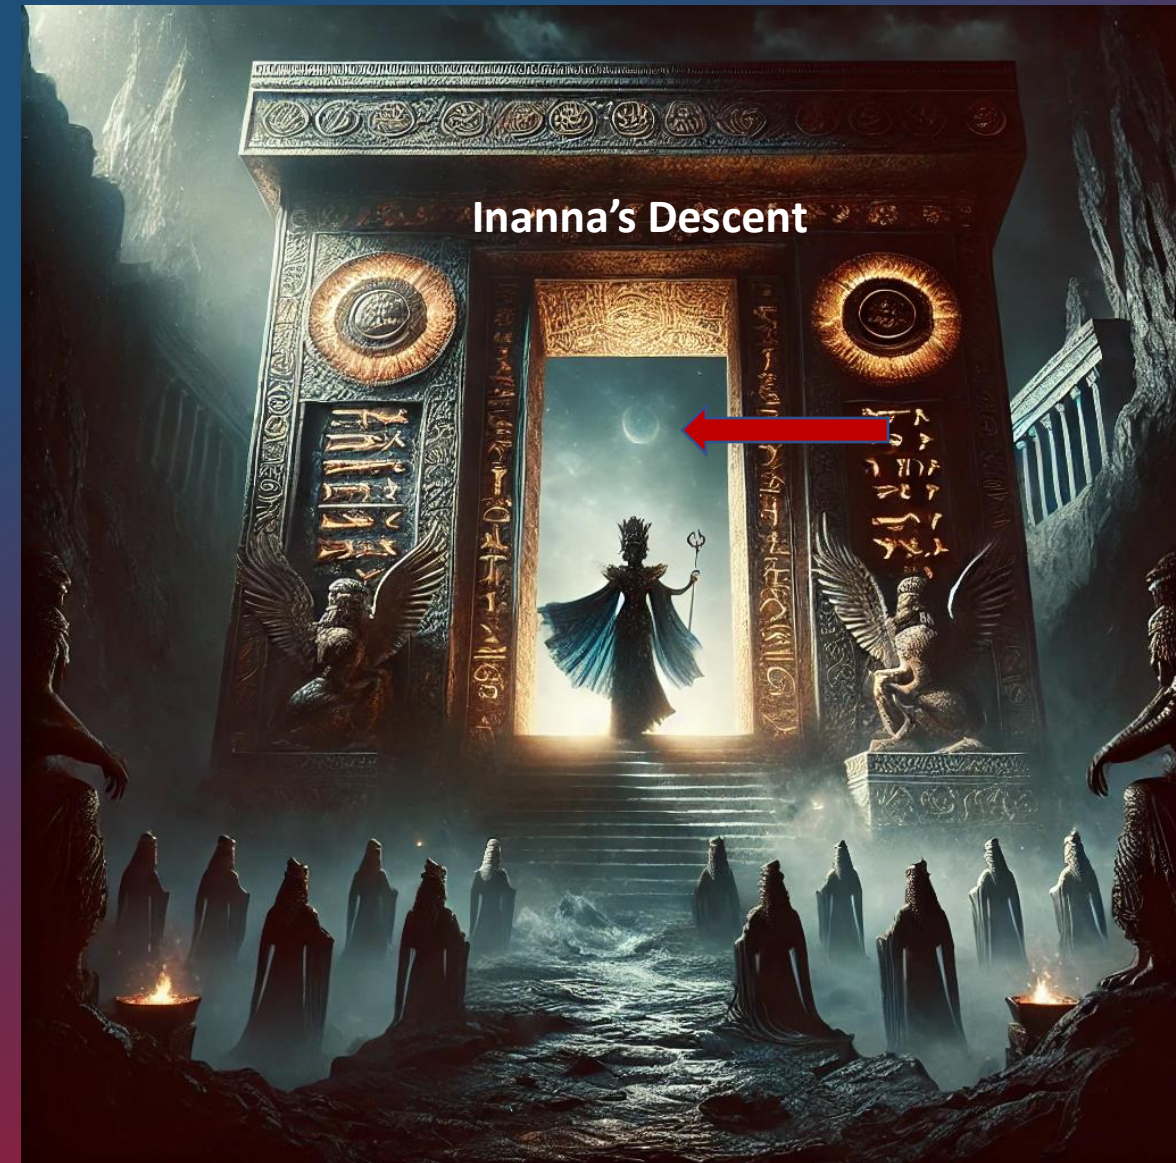

A Ceremonial Journey Inspired by Inanna/Ishtar

The 19-Month Synodic Cycle of Venus is a powerful ceremonial initiatory rite of passage guided by the Mythic Story of Inanna (to the Sumerians) and Ishtar (to the the Babylonians) as a cosmological description of how Venus moves through the sky.

Cultural re-enactment of this cycle as a collective ceremony happened when Venus rose as Morning Star near the Spring Equinox and this is what guides us in this process today.

In March of 2025 this occurred in Aries or Pisces depending on your horizon line marking a rare and unusual end of the Leo Venus Cycle and unique Beginning of the Aries Pisces Venus Cycle.

The Pisces Meta Goddess is emerging from the fierce Aries nature adding guidance that comes from the deeper truth of pure love expressing through fierce self-compassion, doing whatever is needed to help and heal self first.

Aries defends and protects what it loves and cares about.

Pisces helps heal the heart and soul so we can return to the Universal Love that is within us all.

This combined energy suggests we are engaging a powerful journey to activate our loving presence that will naturally inspire the power of love in action (activating) the ways that help heal the world.

Aries and Pisces Supporting One Another

The Aries/Pisces Meta Goddess

IS Guiding Us to:

- Balance Dreaming and Inspired Action as we co-create with Great Mystery crafting a more Loving, Caring, Kind, Considerate, Just World
- Courageously Commit to Empathic Com-Passionate Action that nurtures and cares for all life as beloved
- Commit to healthy forms of Selfless Service to the Divine while remembering to fiercely nurture our selves in the process
- Embrace life in all its dimensions through the power of fire and water expressing as personal and impersonal seeking a true balance between them both.

SELFISH VS. SELFLESS

A close-up photograph of two hands, one on the left and one on the right, firmly gripping a thick, twisted rope. The hands are positioned as if pulling the rope apart, creating tension. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green and blue, suggesting an outdoor setting like a park or a field.

WHEN YOU TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF, YOU ARE SAYING TO YOUR LOVED ONES,
'I LOVE YOU ENOUGH TO WANT TO BE MY BEST FOR YOU.'

Aries-Pisces Intersection of Selfish and Selfless

We (women especially) are taught selfish (Aries) is bad, bitchy, aggressive, but now more recently sexy warrioress. And selfless (Pisces) is good, idealized feminine expression, over giving to our own detriment and burnout. Selfless is often where we get our value and worth. Everyone else comes first, before me, to the point of exhaustion. As a culture, we support women who over give and lose themselves in the process.

Selfish isn't bad. It's critical to our own well being. It is key to living our ideal lives.

Healthy selfishness is essential to healthy selflessness

The archetypal energies of Aries and Pisces are significantly activated throughout 2025-2026!

Venus retraces about 15° of the Fish Constellation
Sun and Venus are about 29° apart on April 12

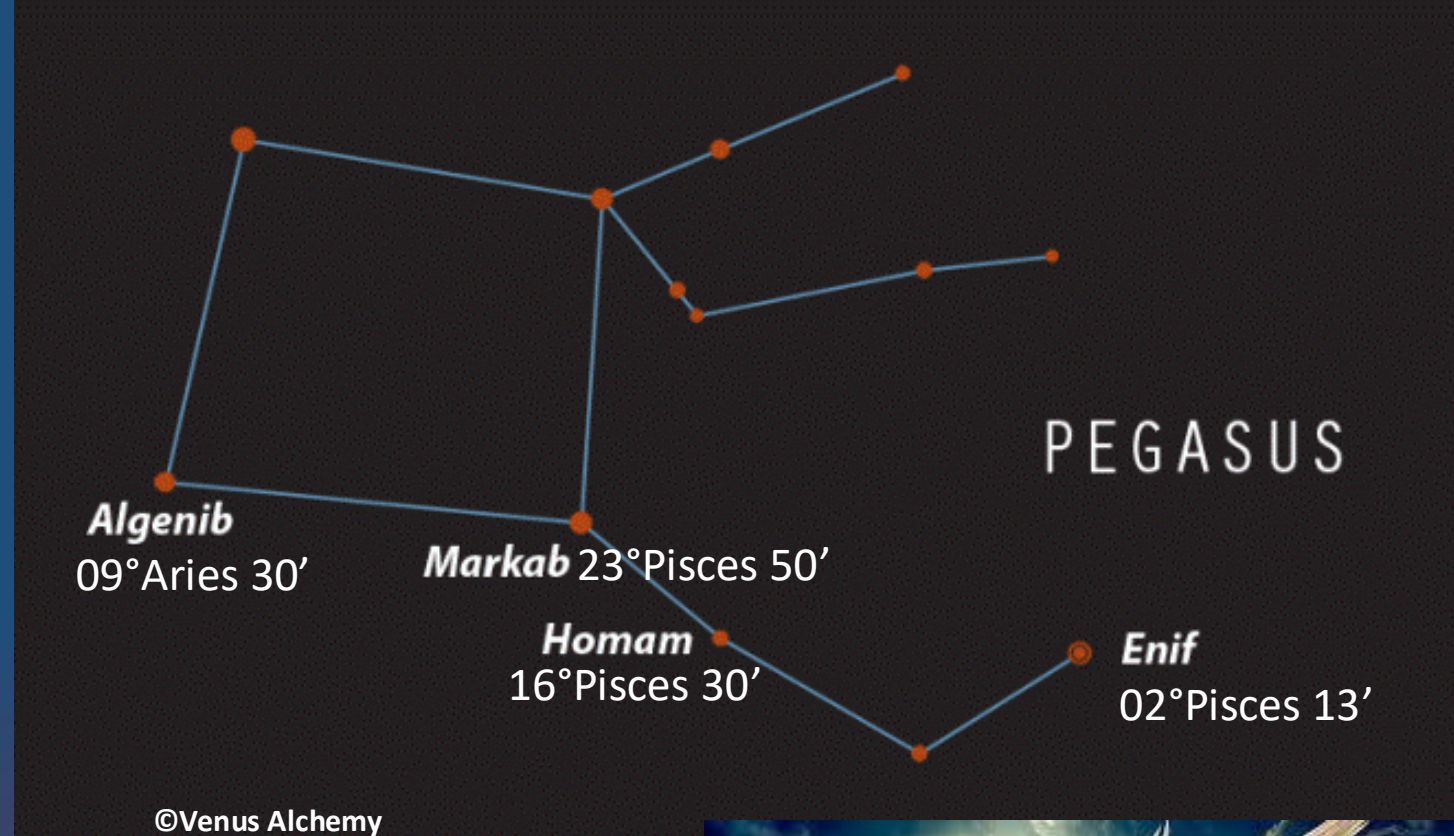

How is Pegasus carrying us into a new perspective of Venus as a combined Meta Goddess of Aries Pisces?

Aries like: Pegasus and the star Algenib give the gifts of a sharp, decisive mind, appearing enthusiastic. The shadow of Algenib star qualities are seen as combative, obstinate, and ruined by headstrong conduct. That is so Aries.

Pisces like: Pegasus was known for activating springs that supported creative insights

Venus began her Retrograde on March 1 aligned with Algenib in Pegasus and the Fish constellation and repasses this star on May 14.

Algenib and this part of the sky has the energy of being adventurous, generous, kind, philanthropic, and regal.

Mercury went Retrograde March 14 with Algenib in Pegasus repassing this star on April 25/26.

Venus is completing her Retrograde aligned with Markab marking the saddle of the horse.

Markab is 23°Pisces 50'. Venus stations direct on April 12 at 24°Pisces 37'.

The star Markab brings focus to the physical expression of the soul. Our physical body is a gift allowing us to experience this life.

Markab holds the gnosis (spiritual knowledge) of metamorphosis of the transformation of physical body into a body of light while remaining physical.

©Venus Alchemy

Markab activates the Merkabah (a grid of connected energy tetrahedrons created around our earthly form) through meditation allowing for quantum leaps in our evolution.

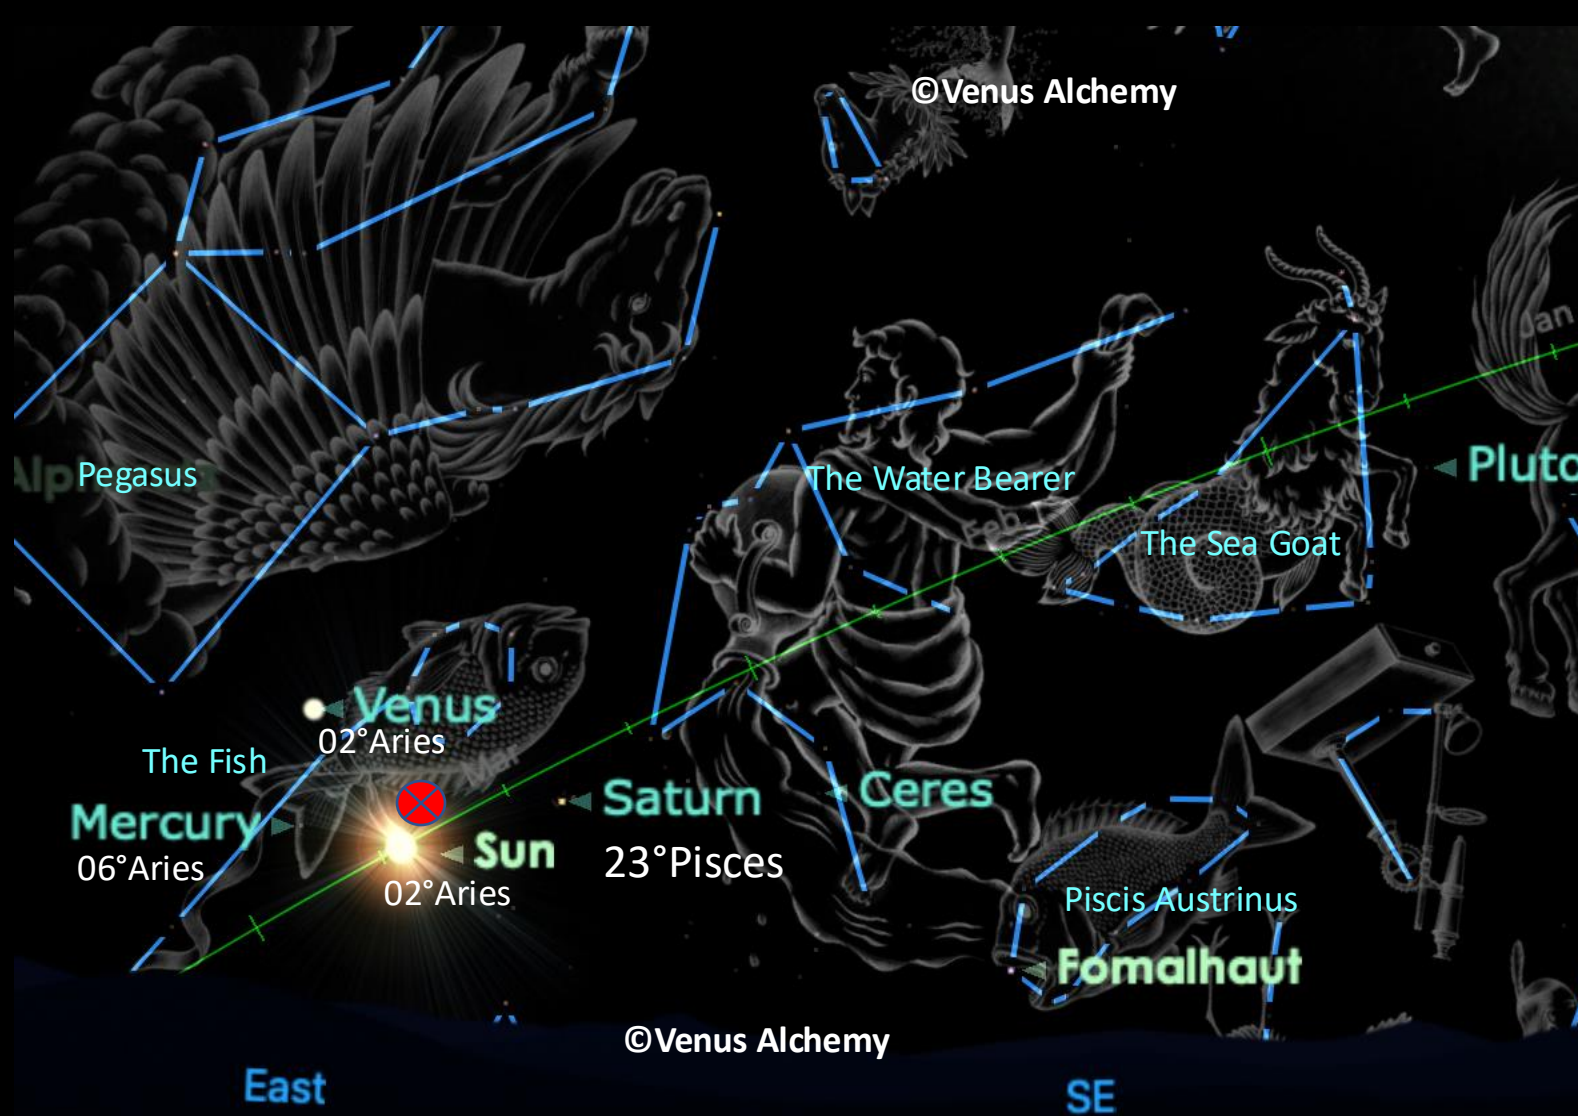

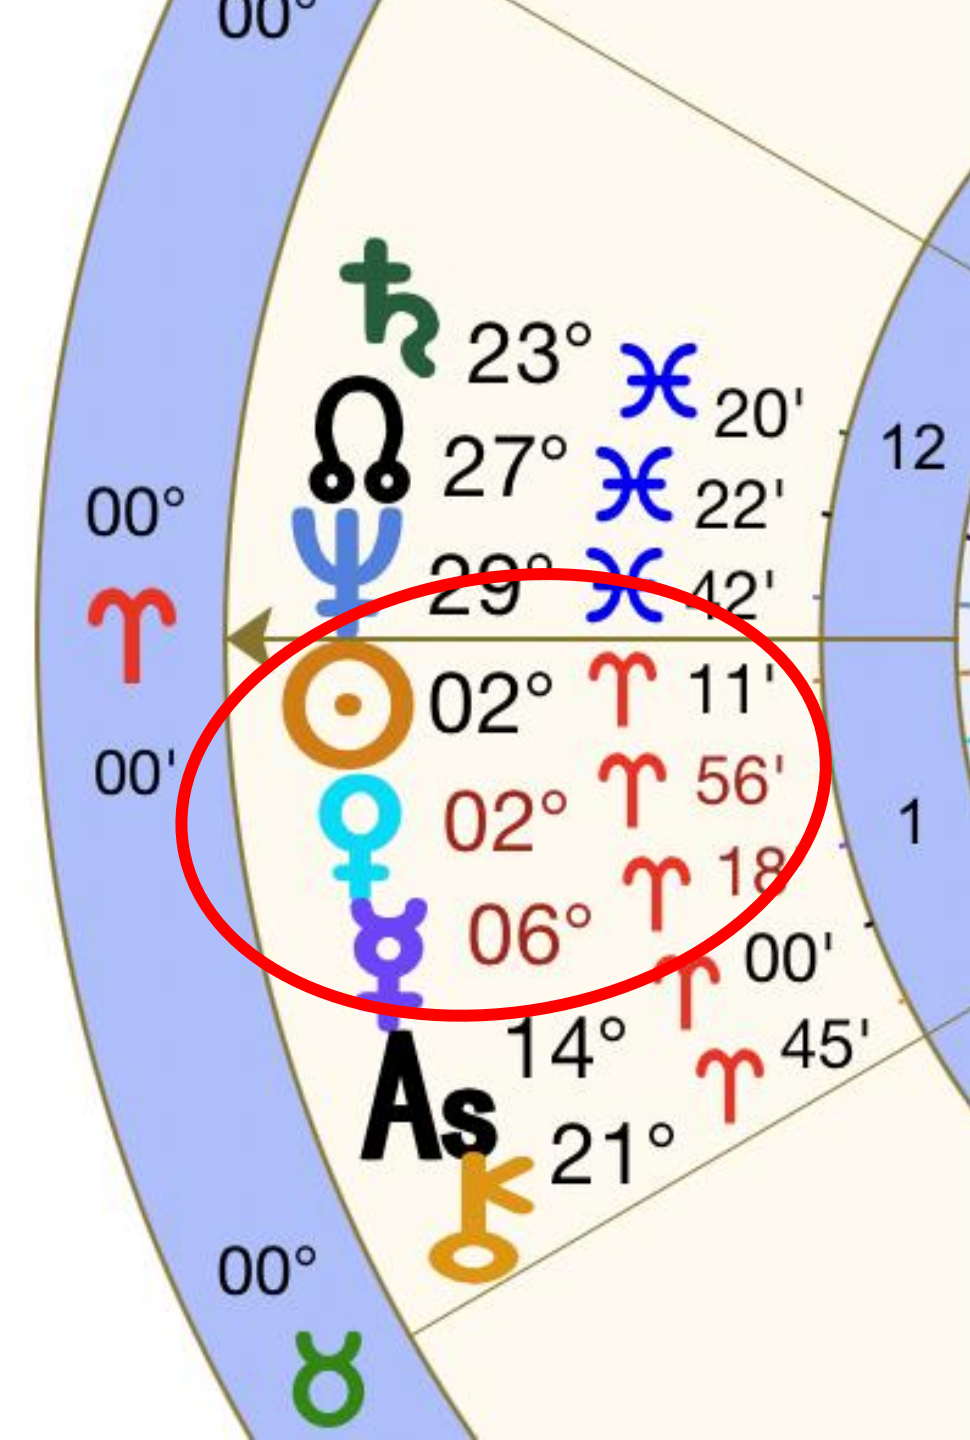

This Venus Retrograde is about Ascending from the past into our destined evolutionary fulfillment, to become even more through our human experience.

The focus of the Star Markab within the Great Square's destiny, is the transformation of the physical body seen as the body temple and a vessel of the soul emphasizing our responsibility to elevate the vibrational frequency we emit.

This is a time for Embodying the Soul's ultimate expression of love and light within Earth's environment.

Saturn most resonates with Capricorn so is also a feminine planet representing Matter (Mother) or Form.

Saturn is necessary to bring our magical dreams into a livable experience.

Saturn and Neptune at the °Aries point is at the beginning of dreaming and crafting a new reality.

Aries-Pisces—Divine Feminine Wholeness & Authenticity

Come from embracing and expressing ALL parts of ourselves

Aries and Pisces is about feeling our hurts to find our whole selves.

ALL of us, stuff we like AND stuff we don't like and qualities we wish we were (and are).

Compassion for our “icky” parts.

Finding our fire in our watery depths.

Embracing our unique individual power, found in our bodies and hearts.

We often hear these buzz phrases:
Step into your light! Own your power!

We are about taking this deeper, allowing ourselves to be seen authentically

Aries-Pisces

Intuition & Self-Worth

Authenticity is trusting yourself and showing up in your vulnerable wholeness. This is having self-worth. Owning all of yourself.

Reclaiming your abandoned parts is what brings wholeness and self-worth. Pisces healing elicits Aries empowerment

An Interplay Between Aries and Pisces from Surfers of the Zuvuya Tales of Interdimensional Travel by José Argüelles

Zuvuya is a Mayan term for our interdimensional connection to all past and future dimensions.

It is also the universal wave of energy that surrounds all life reminding us that the universe operates within simultaneous dualistic cycles.

*The key to surfing the Zuvuya is radical trust and radical surrender.

We must create a total world transformation including a revolution in attitude.
