August 15 just hours before the Venus Moon conjunction is the day Venus reaches greatest elongation from the Sun (high above the setting Sun) or said another way her furthest distance away from the Sun about 46 degrees.

August 15, Venus is shining brightly at magnitude -4.4 in the western sky after sunset, offering the best visibility and highest separation from the Sun's glare signaling her nearly completed ascent phase of the journey.

Venus reaches maximum brightness or “peak brilliance” for this evening star phase on September 18, 2026 (magnitude -4.8) just days after the 8th gate (Sep 14) and just before her Rx station on October 3.

This Moon Venus Conjunction is with the Star of Prophecy

Porrima 10° Libra 27'

This Venus Moon conjunction at the Crown Chakra Gate is with the Star Porrima a.k.a. the star of Prophecy in the Priestess constellation.

Prophecies are possibilities and this Venus Gate is energizing the prophecies we are focusing on with intention and attention.

Hopi Prophecies describe the One Hearted Path of Peace or the two hearted path of destruction. What we choose ideally energizes a world based in Peace, Plenty and Illumination for all life on Planet Earth!

Hopi Grandfather Martin said this time of Powateoni, or the purification of social and ecological disruption, will eventually bring a time of lasting peace over the world's people. But before that, we will go through the eye of the storm. It is time for humanity to choose either the path of annihilation or the path of everlasting life. More Here

Hopi Spiritual leaders had an ancient prophecy that some day world leaders would gather in a Great House of Mica with rules and regulations to solve the world problems without war. More Here

Time to focus and act on the vision of Peace, Plenty and Illumination from the One Hearted vibrating with Pure Love, so that is the Prophecy that manifests!

Additional Prophecies to Note:

Hopi prophecy says it up to the people with good pure hearts who are not afraid to fulfill their destiny of peace and plenty for this world. The Hopi say: We believe that human beings' spiritual power through prayer is so strong that it decides life on Earth. We ARE the ones we have been waiting for!

The Mayan and Tibetans speak of this as the 'Age of Flowers'

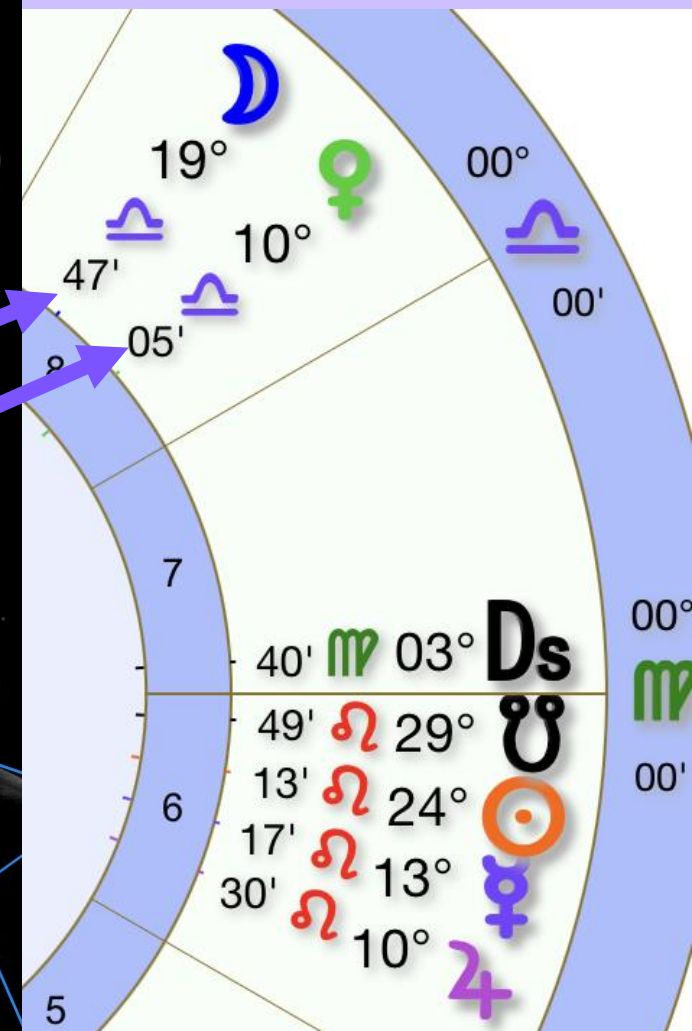

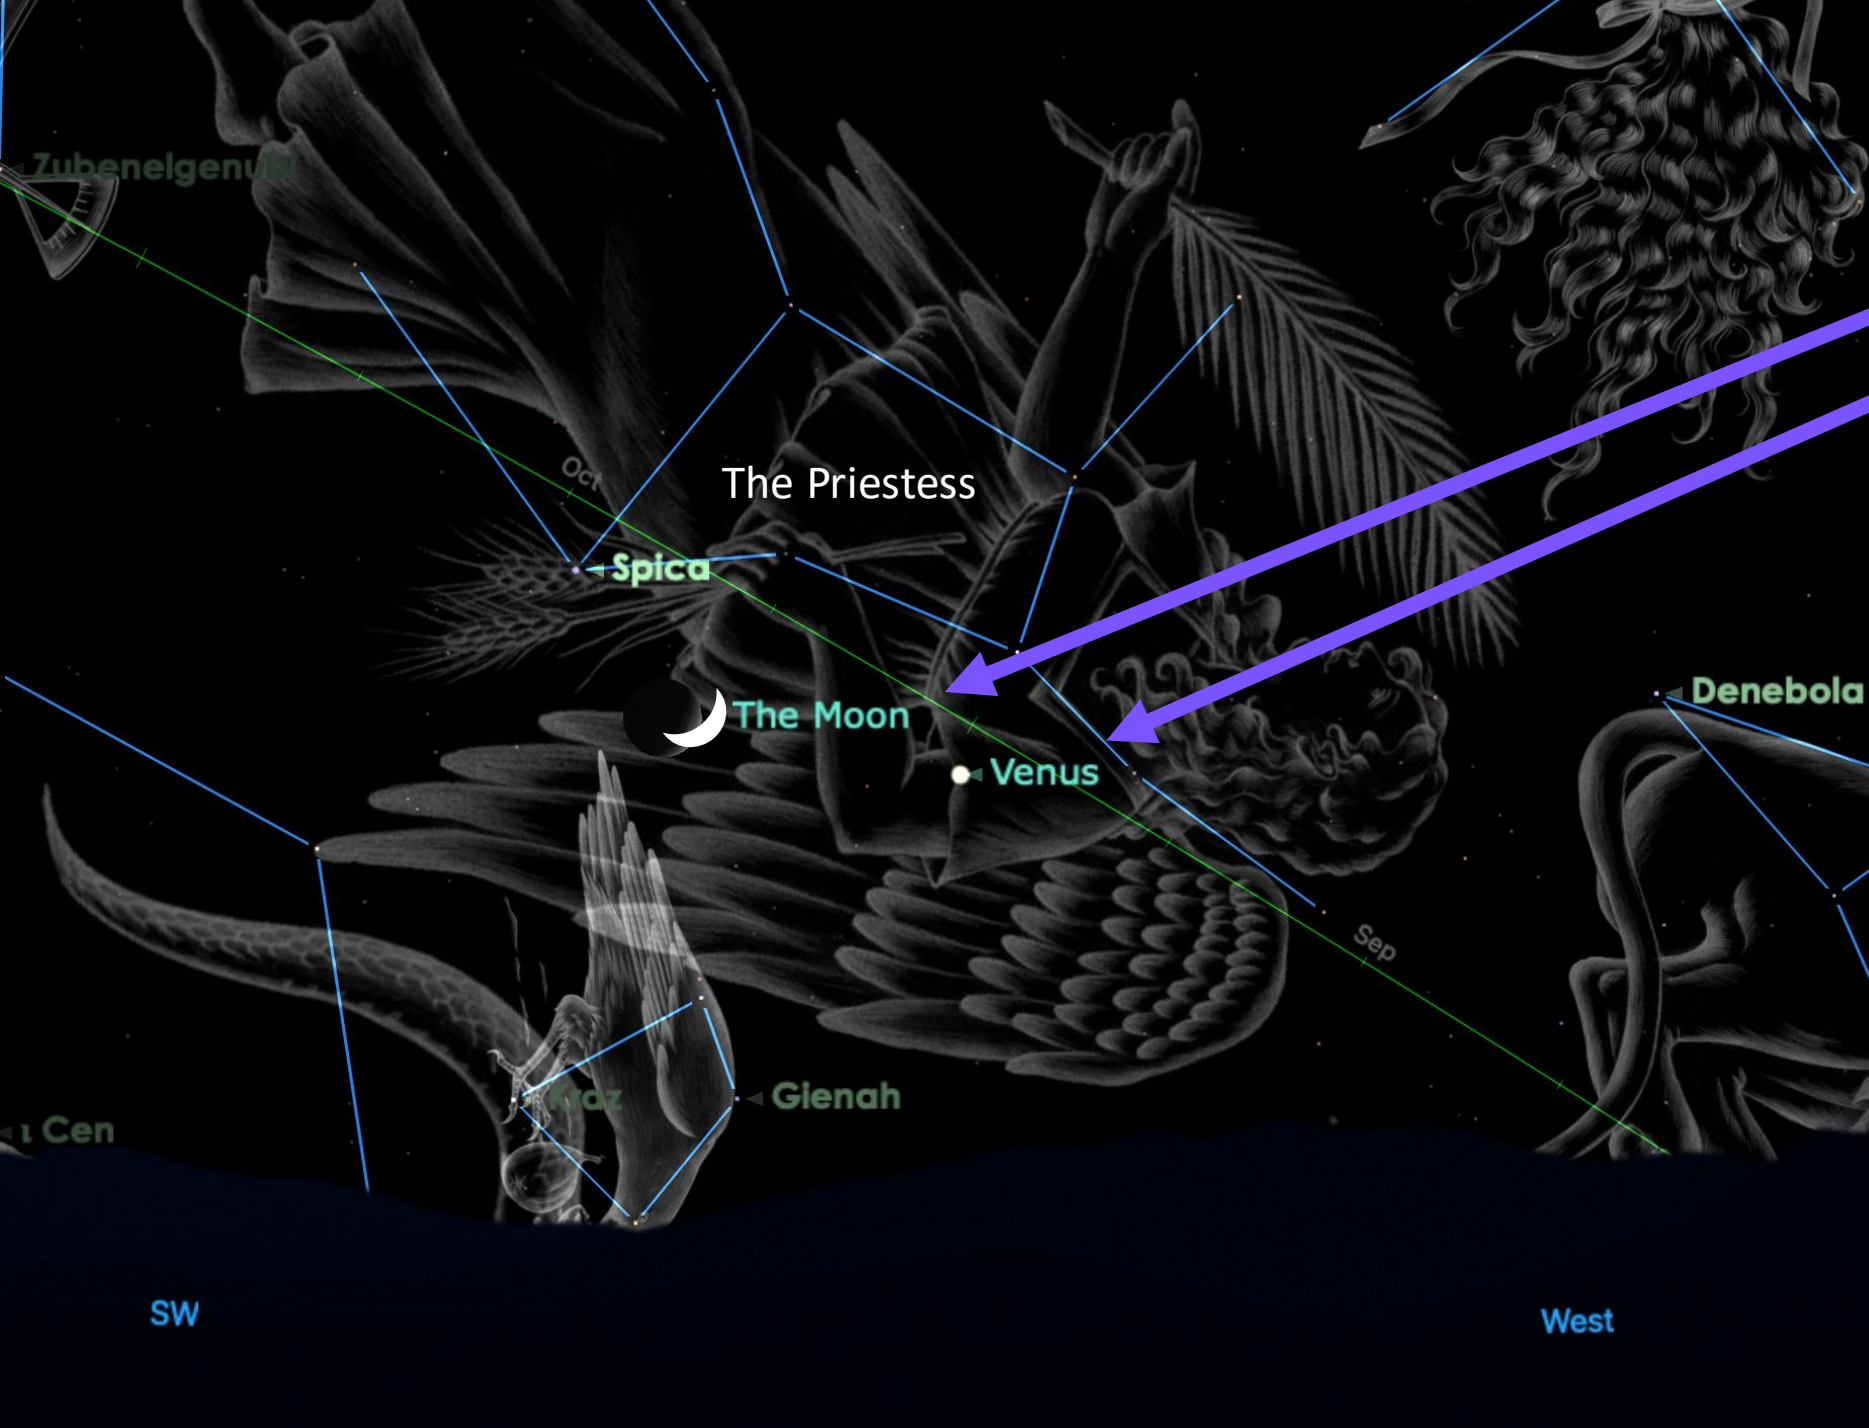

The Quero (a Quechua-Peru) in the Cusco Region call it the 'Age of Peace and Illumination'

Ancient Egyptian rites of Initiation were patterned on the Seeding, Budding, Blooming and Fruiting of the Heart

The Mayan Calendar saw this as 'Seeding and Birthing a New Reality'

The planetary alignments are here to remind us it is time to let go of the past and open our hearts to the Cosmic Codes we all carry within awakening us to the Divine Love guiding us toward our destiny when we surrender, allow and forgive!

Reclaiming our Power at the Crown Chakra with the Aries-Pisces Meta-Goddess with Venus in Libra

Aug 6—Sep 10

As Venus continues her journey through Libra, she activates the Crown Chakra through relationship, reflection, balance, and our connection to something greater than ourselves.

Crown Chakra healing here comes through recognizing relationships as sacred mirrors. Libra reminds us that we come to know ourselves through others—while learning to stay connected to ourselves within relationship.

It is the Crown Chakra in Libra that knows:
I know myself more deeply through conscious connection with others.

Libra Crown Chakra Medicine:

Notice what your relationships reflect back to you
Stay connected to yourself while connecting with others
Let relationships deepen your self-awareness

This is the Crown Chakra reclamation that reflects, connects, and unifies.

Reclaiming our Power at the Crown Chakra with the Aries-Pisces Meta-Goddess with Venus in Scorpio

Sep 10—Jan 7, 2027 due to Retrograde

As Venus embarks on her journey through Scorpio, she activates the Crown Chakra through surrender, transformation, trust, and connection to the unseen.

Crown Chakra healing here comes through releasing our need to control what is changing. Scorpio reminds us that transformation requires surrender—trusting that endings, uncertainty, and the unknown can lead us into deeper wisdom and renewal.

It is the Crown Chakra in Scorpio that knows:
I surrender what I cannot control and trust the wisdom of transformation.

Scorpio Crown Chakra Medicine:

Release what you can no longer control
Trust the wisdom within endings and change
Surrender to what is ready to transform

This is the Crown Chakra reclamation that surrenders, transforms, and trusts.

Maya Angelou was born Marguerite Annie Johnson; on April 4, 1928. She died on May 28, 2014 at the age of 86.

She was an American author, poet and civil rights activist.

She published seven autobiographies, three books of essays, several books of poetry, and is credited with a list of plays, movies, and television shows spanning over 50 years.

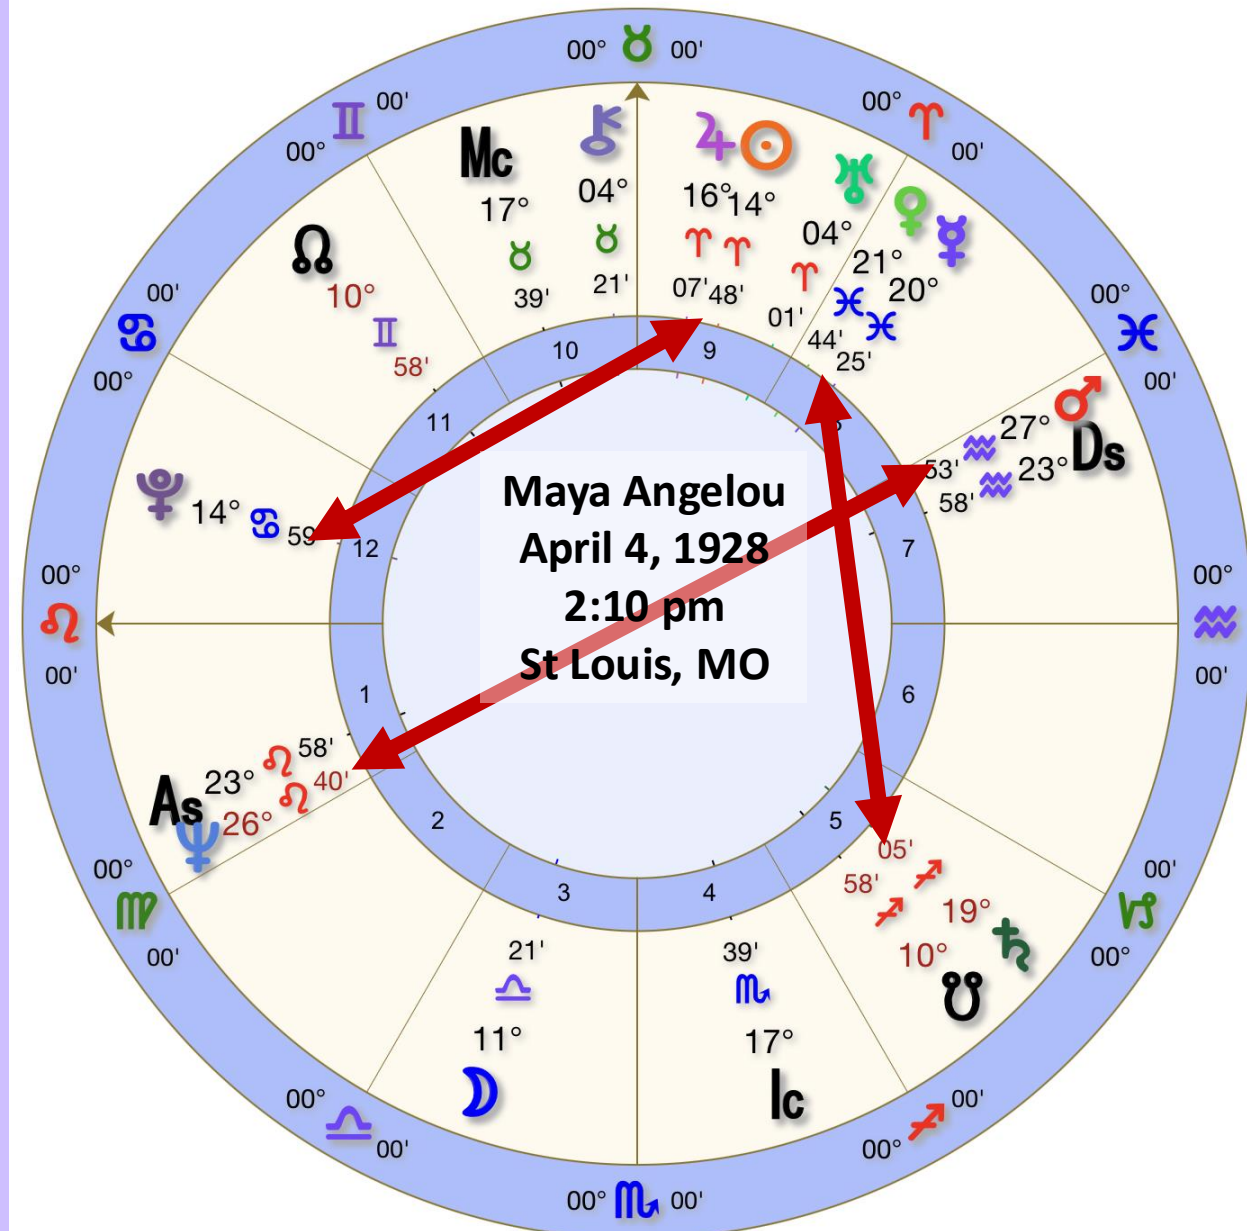

She received dozens of awards and more than 50 honorary degrees.

Her first book was I know Why the Caged Bird Sings (1969), describing her life up to the age of 17. This book brought her international recognition and acclaim.

Maya worked with Martin Luther King Jr and Malcolm X furthering Civil Rights.

With Aries Sun, Jupiter and Uranus she was fierce in her commitment to inspiring others through her writing and being a civil rights activist.

With Venus and Mercury in Pisces she was empathic, intuitive and finding ways to heal the wounds of her time.

At the age of eight, while living with her mother, Angelou was sexually abused and raped by her mother's boyfriend, a man named Freeman.

She told her brother, who told the rest of their family. Freeman was found guilty but was jailed for only one day. Four days after his release, he was murdered, probably by Angelou's uncles.

Angelou became mute for almost five years, believing she was to blame for his death.

Later she stated: "I thought, my voice killed him; I killed that man, because I told his name. And then I thought I would never speak again, because my voice would kill anyone."

According to Marcia Ann Gellespie and her colleagues, who wrote a biography about Angelou, it was during this period of silence when Angelou developed her extraordinary memory, her love for books and literature, and her ability to listen and observe the world around her.

Perhaps it was her Venus and Mercury in Pisces fueling Empathic Sensitivity squared by natal Saturn (the judge) and natal Pluto (the shadow) square the Sun and Jupiter contributed to her choice to go silent. Plus, at the time this occurred transiting Saturn was conjunct her natal Venus and Mercury.

Maya led the way for women and especially Black women to have a voice.

In the 1990's she appeared about 80 times on the lecture circuit. She continued to give talks into her 80's.

January 20, 1993 at the first inauguration of President Bill Clinton Maya Angelou became the second poet in history to read a poem at a presidential inauguration, and the first African American and woman.

Angelou's audio recording of the poem won the 1994 Grammy Award in the "Best Spoken Word" category, resulting in more fame and recognition for her previous works, and broadening her appeal. See her speech HERE

On The Pulse Of Morning

by Maya Angelou

A Rock, A River, A Tree
Hosts to species long since departed,
Mark the mastodon.
The dinosaur, who left dry tokens
Of their sojourn here
On our planet floor,
Any broad alarm of their hastening doom
Is lost in the gloom of dust and ages.
But today, the Rock cries out to us, clearly,
forcefully,
Come, you may stand upon my
Back and face your distant destiny,
But seek no haven in my shadow.
I will give you no hiding place down here.
You, created only a little lower than
The angels, have crouched too long in
The bruising darkness,
Have lain too long
Face down in ignorance.
Your mouths spelling words
Armed for slaughter.
The rock cries out today, you may stand on me, But do not hide your face.
Across the wall of the world,
A river sings a beautiful song,
Come rest here by my side.

Each of you a bordered country,
Delicate and strangely made proud,
Yet thrusting perpetually under siege.
Your armed struggles for profit
Have left collars of waste upon
My shore, currents of debris upon my breast.
Yet, today I call you to my riverside,
If you will study war no more.

Come, clad in peace and I will sing the songs
The Creator gave to me when I
And the tree and stone were one.
Before cynicism was a bloody sear
across your brow
And when you yet knew you still knew nothing.
The river sings and sings on.

There is a true yearning to respond to
The singing river and the wise rock.
So say the Asian, the Hispanic, the Jew,
The African and Native American, the Sioux,
The Catholic, the Muslim, the French,
the Greek, The Irish, the Rabbi, the Priest, the Sheikh,
The Gay, the Straight, the Preacher,
The privileged, the homeless, the teacher.

They hear. They all hear
The speaking of the tree.
Today, the first and last of every tree
Speaks to humankind. Come to me, here beside the river.
Plant yourself beside me, here beside the river.

Each of you, descendant of some passed on Traveller, has been paid for.

You, who gave me my first name,
You Pawnee, Apache and Seneca,
You Cherokee Nation, who rested with me,
Then forced on bloody feet,
Left me to the employment of other seekers—
Desperate for gain, starving for gold.

You, the Turk, the Swede, the German, the Scot...
You the Ashanti, the Yoruba, the Kru,
Bought, sold, stolen, arriving on a nightmare
Praying for a dream.

Here, root yourselves beside me.
I am the tree planted by the river,
Which will not be moved.
I, the rock, I the river, I the tree
I am yours—your passages have been paid.
Lift up your faces, you have a piercing need
For this bright morning dawning for you.
History, despite its wrenching pain,
Cannot be unlived, and if faced with courage,
Need not be lived again.

On The Pulse Of Morning

Link is a Video of the Address
Maya Gave at the Inauguration

Lift up your eyes upon
The day breaking for you.
Give birth again
To the dream.

Women, children, men,
Take it into the palms of your hands.
Mold it into the shape of your most Private need. Sculpt it into
The image of your most public self.
Lift up your hearts.
Each new hour holds new chances
For new beginnings.
Do not be wedded forever
To fear, yoked eternally
To brutishness.

The horizon leans forward,
Offering you space to place new steps of change.

Here, on the pulse of this fine day
You may have the courage
To look up and out upon me,
The rock, the river, the tree, your country.
No less to Midas than the mendicant.
No less to you now than the mastodon then.

Here on the pulse of this new day
You may have the grace to look up and out
And into your sister's eyes,
Into your brother's face, your country
And say simply
Very simply
With hope
Good morning.

With the publication of I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, Angelou publicly discussed aspects of her personal life. She was respected as a spokesperson for African Americans defending African American Culture and speaking out for women,.

Her works are widely used in schools and universities worldwide, although attempts have been made to ban her books from some U.S. libraries.

Angelou's most celebrated works have been labeled as Autobiographical Fiction, but many critics consider them to be genuine autobiographies.

She made a deliberate attempt to challenge the common structure of the autobiography by critiquing, changing, and expanding the genre. Her books center on themes that include racism, identity, family, and travel.

Reclaim your divine authority by placing a crown (or something that represents a crown) on your head.

You can do this yourself or create a crowning ceremony with others.

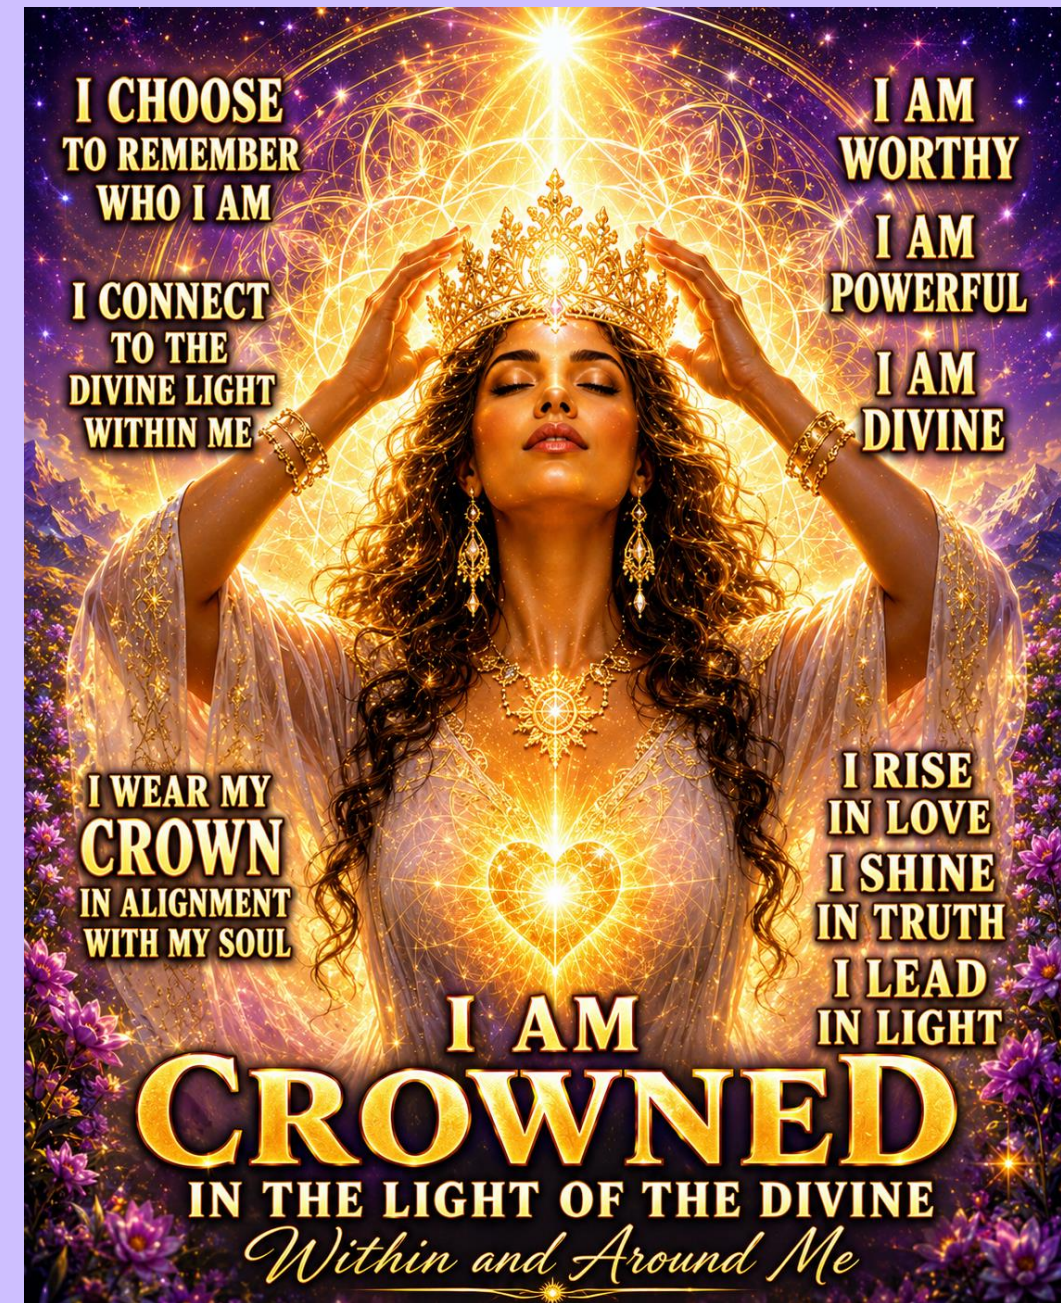

Then craft a proclamation you say out loud. For example:

I claim and embrace my divine authority as a sovereign being, in charge of my own destiny.

I claim and celebrate my wisely inspired divine inner knowing as my divine birthright guiding me in joyfully living and fulfilling my divine design though my life purpose.

I claim and embody my sovereignty and an ever growing greater experience of wholeness within. I Love how I am living from love as I continue to increase my own radiant health and fun co-creative experiences that changes my world and the world around me.

Fortnite billionaire Tim Sweeney has spent years protecting forests instead of developing them.

Tim Sweeney began purchasing thousands of acres of forestland across North Carolina to prevent it from being turned into resorts and housing developments.

His conservation efforts began after the 2008 real estate crash, when large parcels of undeveloped land became available. Rather than investing for profit, Sweeney focused on preserving the forests for the future.

Many of the properties have since been placed under permanent conservation easements or transferred to conservation organizations and public agencies, ensuring they remain protected no matter who owns them in the future.

Today, his conservation work covers tens of thousands of acres, safeguarding forests that provide habitat for rare plants, wildlife, and important natural ecosystems

Libra Crown Chakra • Boundaries

Boundaries strengthen your connection to yourself.

Boundaries are knowing what's OK for you and what's not OK for you—and honoring that truth.

When we override our needs, say yes when we mean no, or abandon ourselves to stay connected to others, we cross our own boundaries.

Your feelings can be boundary check-engine lights:

- Resentment signals where you may be over-giving.
- Irritation reveals what may not be OK for you.
- Exhaustion shows where you may be overriding your needs.
- Self-honoring builds self-trust.

Ask yourself:

Where am I abandoning myself to stay connected to someone else?
